THOUSANDS OBEY ORDER TO STRIKE

EMPLOYEES OF HARRIMAN LINES QUIT WORK

Vice-President Declines to Make Statement Regarding Trouble at Present

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 29.—While definite figures are not forthcoming as yet, from either side, the strike order for the shop employees of the Harriman system, which became effective at ten o'clock this morning, appears to have been generally obeyed. A few of the old employees at the shops remained at work, but the great majority of the men quietly packed their tools when the whistle announced ten o'clock and walked out of the yards.

There was no disorder at any point and the striking men did not linger about the shops.

Railroad officials reiterate their prediction that service will not be impaired on any of their lines. Union officials have little to say beyond the statement that the men have held together and generally obeyed the order.

All California shops heard from, including Los Angeles, Oakland, Sacramento and Fresno, were promptly abandoned. The shops at Portland are not open on Saturdays and the strike order was observed by ninety emergency men.

At the Southern Pacific office in this city the work of checking up the shop employees at all points was taken up at once. The company expected to announce later today just how many men remained at work.

Walk Out

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 29.—Four thousand men employed in the Illinois Central shops at Burnside walked out at 10 o'clock today obeying yesterday's strike order. Two-thirds of the police department here was held in reserve for fear of an outbreak.

There was no signal given when the hour arrived. As soon as the clock struck ten the employees began to walk out, groups of twenty and thirty men quitting together as they finished their individual tasks.

There was no demonstration. The village of Burnside, 15 miles south of here, is populated almost entirely by railway shopmen. Nearly all the men who walked out went direct to their homes.

There were no strikebreakers at hand and although the company is reported to have a force of recruits in Chicago, the men thought they would not be taken to the works until tomorrow.

One hundred and fifty locomotives in course of repair are in the yards and shops are more than 500 partly-repaired cars in the yards.

The first handicap to traffic is expected to-night when the engines are brought to the ash pits. Then men pay there will be no one to handle them and the engines will not be ready for use tomorrow.

Julius Kruttschnitt, vice-president of the Harriman lines, who will represent the Harriman lines in all negotiations looking to the ending of the strike, returned here from New York today. Mr. Kruttschnitt said that he had heard nothing from railroad officials in the south and west and that he would make no statement before Monday.

At New Orleans

New Orleans, La., Sept. 29.—At the shops of the Southern Pacific Railroad, 350 union employees affiliated with the federation obeyed the strike order at 10 o'clock today. The clerks employed in the freight office of the road will consider the strike situation at noon.

Fifty hundred employees of the Illinois Central shops at Harahan, just above New Orleans, quit work at 10 o'clock and marched to the city. This increased the number of strikers of the Illinois Central and Yazoo & Mississippi Valley to 2,000. No disorders of any kind have been reported.

At Oakland

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 29.—The shopmen at the West Oakland yards of the Southern Pacific, numbering 500, walked out this morning at 10 o'clock in obedience to the order to strike.

Situation at Omaha

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 29.—A majority of the workmen of the Union Pacific shops quit work at 10 o'clock today. There was no disorder. The railroad officials say that a considerable portion of the 1,300 employees remained at work, but they could not tell the exact number.

Gunfiring Plant

East St. Louis, Ill., Sept. 29.—The strike order was anticipated by a large group of Illinois Central shopmen who left their work at 8:30 o'clock to be followed later by their fellow workers. At 10 o'clock the remainder of the 500 employees here laid down their tools and left the shops. Guards were posted about the plant.

Over 1,200 Strike

Houston, Tex., Sept. 29.—Between 1,200 and 1,500 men of the Harriman lines in this section of Texas obeyed the strike call at 10 o'clock, quitting their work promptly at that time. There was no disorder. The Southern Pacific shops had been previously closed.

AND THE INQUIRY STILL GOES ON

COUNCIL COMMITTEE INQUIRES AS TO GRAFT

Witness Wilson Explains What His Sworn Statement to Mayor Means

There was another crowded attendance in the city council chamber of Victoria yesterday afternoon, when the investigation into the alleged graft scandal, involving the names of an alderman and a city official in connection with the obtaining of the paving contract by the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company, was resumed.

The previous day's developments had no doubt stimulated interest even to the unconcerned, while to those immediately connected the interval meant accumulated excitement and ill-restrained impatience. It so happened, however, that yesterday was the day of revelations in regard to the inquiry. On the opening day the inquiry was allowed to wander from the issue but yesterday it jumped right on to it and stayed with it—more or less.

Mayor Morley explained at the outset that the obligation he was previously under to observe the "confidentiality" of the names of the alderman and city official in connection with the paving contract was now acknowledged to be W. E. Wilson, no longer bound him, as he had received the sanction of the writer to make his statement public. That statement, which has been the means of heaping the vilest insinuations upon the names of Alderman H. M. Peterson and City Solicitor McDiarmid, who were understood to be referred to in the letter, and incidentally upon the whole council through the failure to produce the charges and name the accused in the first instance, was written, as was generally known, though never admitted till yesterday, by William E. Wilson, a former employee of the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company.

The statement, which is given in full below, purports to be the sum and substance of what Wilson knew about the obtaining of the contract while he was in the employ of the company. Although his worship was at some pains on Thursday to correct his first statement that no one was charged with wrongdoing in connection with the granting of the contract, the reading of the statement to the court proved the intended implication of Ald. H. M. Peterson and the city solicitor. While it made no specific charges against them, or for that matter against anybody else, it referred to them as "holding out" for something, and otherwise insinuated that everything was not on the level with them.—He spoke of "handling" the city solicitor in a manner that seemed to justify that gentleman's counsel in demanding that the statement be produced.

Apart from the statement read, which was a copy of the original, the latter being produced later by request and identified by Wilson, the session was full of interest and not a little excitement. William E. Wilson, who might be described as the informer, since he was the person who furnished the statement upon which the investigation is based, was the first witness called.

At the hands of H. A. Maclean, K. C., who represented the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company, he was subjected to a grueling cross-examination. In reply to questions he denied that he had done any dirty work, and stated that he had never been asked to do any by the company which employed him. He did not think there was anything corrupt in what he had done in assisting the company to obtain the contract, and he was forced to the conclusion that if it had been done by him as a pure man, would not have done it.

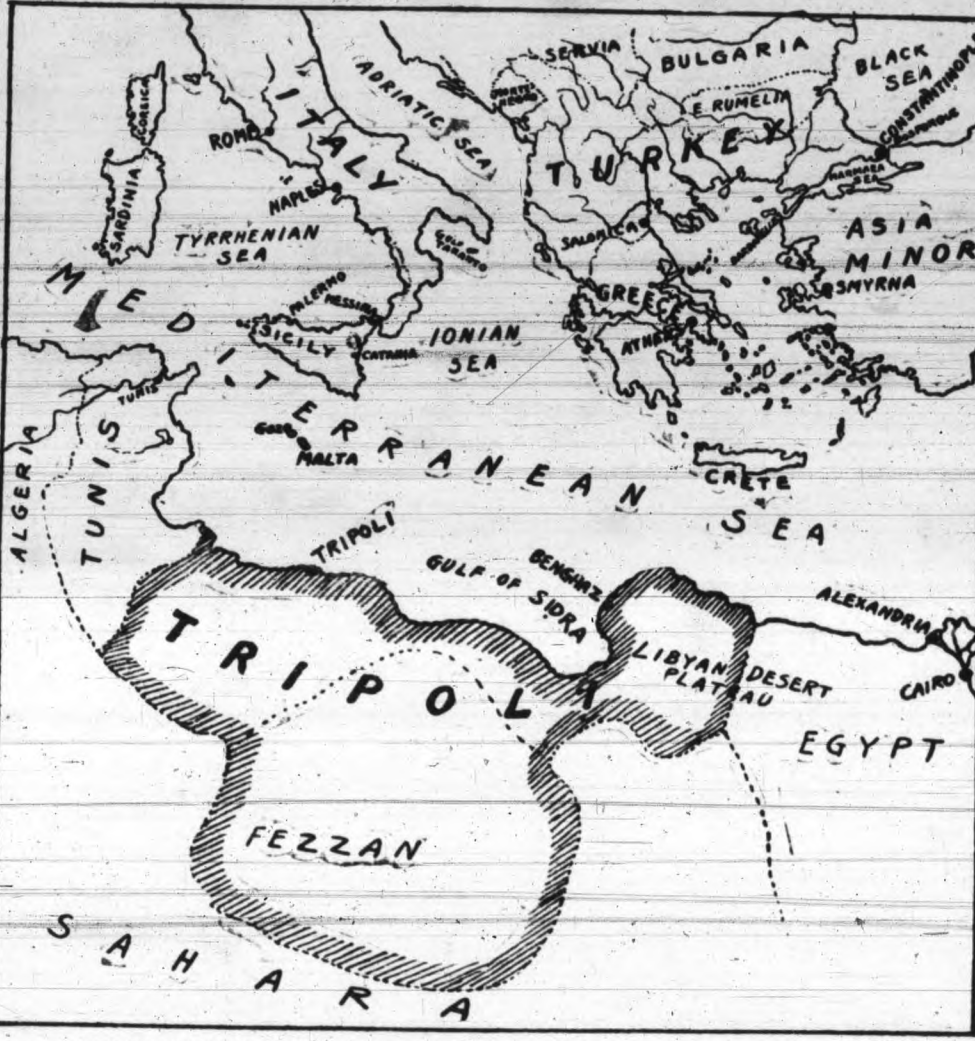

He denied emphatically that he ever attempted to corrupt a single alderman or a single city official. He was not aware that any corrupt practices had been engaged in. He certainly was not there to suggest such a thing and he was very desirous of having that thoroughly understood. He also denied that he had any motive in going to the mayor and giving the information. On this point he was closely pressed but he refused to say that spite or revenge had anything to do with it. He had been asked what he knew and he thought it right to tell the truth. The fact that he did not get a share in the $15,000, alleged to have gone to O'Brien, had nothing to do with his action. In the words of Mr. Maclean, it was just a little helpful information for the mayor.

The only other witness examined yesterday was Mr. Kelsor, a prominent representative of the company, who acknowledged having had more to do with the contract than anyone else. His clear-cut evidence and convincing manner gave him a grip of the situation which neither the subtleties of counsel nor the veiled insinuations of the mayor could shake him from.

GERMAN AVIATOR KILLED

Berlin, Sept. 29.—Captain Englehard, the pioneer aviator, fell and was killed yesterday during the aviation programme at Johannisthal field. He was the leading aviation authority in Germany.

SCENE OF NAVAL AND MILITARY OPERATIONS ON THE MEDITERRANEAN

ADMIRAL BERESFORD WILL HASTEN HOME

Decides to Shorten Stay in Canada—Will Sail on October 20

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—Lord Charles Beresford, owing to the political situation between Italy and Turkey and the possibility of a European clash, decided to shorten his stay in Canada. Instead of leaving November 3, as originally planned, he decided today to book passage on the steamer sailing from Quebec on October 20. He expects to take a share in the debates in the House of Commons as naval matters are sure to occupy a great deal of attention.

CHANGES MADE BY THE GRAND TRUNK

Vice-Presidents Are Now in Charge of Various Depart- ments of Railway

Montreal, Sept. 29.—Announcement is made of a complete reorganization of the executive domestic economy of the Grand Trunk railway. The old officers of vice-presidents have been arranged so that there are no longer first, second or third vice-presidents, but a number of vice-presidents, each in charge of a department. The official circles in the Grand Trunk Pacific are also somewhat changed. According to the reorganization the new official list will be as follows:

E. J. Fitzhugh, formerly vice-president of the Grand Trunk, becomes president of the Central Vermont, Central Vermont, Transportation Company, Southern New England Railway, and Montreal, and Southern Counties Railway.

William Wainwright, formerly second vice-president of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific, becomes senior vice-president of the Grand Trunk, and second vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

M. M. Reynolds, formerly third vice-president of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific, becomes vice-president of the Grand Trunk in charge of the accounting departments, and third vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific.

Howard G. Kelley, formerly chief engineer of the Grand Trunk, becomes vice-president in charge of the construction, transportation and maintenance departments.

J. E. Dalrymple, formerly assistant freight traffic manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific, becomes vice-president of the Grand Trunk in charge of traffic, both passenger and freight.

CUSTOMS REVENUE CONTINUES TO GROW

Returns for First Half of Fiscal Year Show Increase of $5,746,784

Ottawa, Sept. 29.—Customs revenue of the Dominion for September totaled $7,719,151, an increase of $1,242,241 compared with last year. The first half of the fiscal year shows an increase in customs revenue of $5,746,784.

The trade and commerce department today formally handed over to the immigration branch of the interior department control of Chinese immigration. The department hands the business over to Immigration Superintendent Scott without an outstanding claim or an undecided case.

HON. F. COCHRANE MAY ENTER CABINET

Changes Likely in Ontario as Result of Formation of Federal Ministry

Toronto, Sept. 29.—Hon. Frank Cochrane's portfolio in the Borden cabinet will be announced by the end of next week, when it is expected Sir Wilfrid Laurier will have resigned and R. L. Borden called upon to form a government. In Toronto, it is believed that Mr. Cochrane will be appointed minister of railways and canals.

Further changes in the Ontario government may follow the formation of the new federal administration. The rumor persists that Col. Matheson, the provincial treasurer, will also go to Ottawa. It is suggested that he will be appointed to the senate, of which his father, the late Hon. Roderick Matheson, was a member.

LEASES CABLES

London, Sept. 29.—At meetings of the stockholders of the Anglo-American Cable Company and the Direct United States Cable Co., the agreement to lease their lines to the Western Union Telegraph Company for a period of 99 years was unanimously approved. The agreement will become effective on its ratification by the Western Union.

FALL PROVES FATAL

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—Samuel Emallo fell down a flight of stairs last night and died as a result of injuries sustained. After falling he climbed back to his room, where he died unattended. His dead body was found this morning.

HOSTILITIES BETWEEN ITALY AND TURKEY OPEN

Italian Warships Bombard Seaport and Disable Turkish Torpedo Boat—The Porte Again Appeals to the Powers to Intervene

The first blow in the Turko-Italian war has been struck by Italy within twenty-four hours after the declaration of hostilities.

Italian warships under the command of the Duke of Abruzzi have bombarded the Turkish seaport of Prevesa, destroying the government house and disabling a Turkish torpedo boat.

There has been no hostilities at Tripoli up to 9 o'clock this morning, but Italians are reported to have landed east of Tripoli. A large Italian cruiser is reported to have gone ashore in Tripoli harbor.

Turkey has asked the United States to take charge of Turkish subjects in Italy, but in the meantime Germany appears to have assumed the obligation.

The Turkish government is strengthening its military forces on the Grecian and Montenegrin frontiers.

The Turkish parliament has been summoned to meet. Turkey has addressed another appeal to the powers, saying there is still time to prevent the evil effects of a conflict.

In Italy the declaration of war against Turkey has been received with enthusiasm in all parts of the country. The impression prevails in diplomatic quarters in Berlin that the conflict will be of short duration.

Prevesa Bombarded

Salonica, Turkey, Sept. 29.—An Italian naval division today bombarded the seaport of Prevesa, destroying the government house and sinking a Turkish torpedo boat in the harbor.

Reported Shelling of Tripoli

Berlin, Sept. 29.—A news agency dispatch from Rome says that the bombardment of Tripoli began this morning. There is no confirmation of the statement from other sources.

Messages Suppressed

Malta, Sept. 29.—The cable lines to Tripoli are open this morning, but apparently messages from there are suppressed by the Italians, who are supposed to have taken possession of the wires.

May Land Troops To-day

Chiasso, Switzerland, Sept. 29.—A wireless message received in Italy from Rear-Admiral Aubrey in command at Tripoli, expresses the hope that the occupation of the Tripoli coast will be practically accomplished to-night.

The cruisers blockading Tripoli today captured several Turkish fishing boats suspected of being spies.

The Greeks notified their representatives in Italy today that they did not intend to permit the opportunity afforded by the Tripoli affair to pass without obtaining their long desire to be annexed to Greece.

Awaiting Expiration of Time Limit

Rome, Sept. 29.—The Messaggero announces that the government, acting under the provisions of international law, is allowing 24 hours to elapse before the summons to surrender and the bombardment of Tripoli. The 24-hour period expires at six o'clock this evening and a bombardment will begin that moment.

Transport Seized

Rome, Sept. 29.—The declaration of war against Turkey has been received with enthusiasm in all parts of the country. On the receipt of the news from the capital great processions were formed at Genoa, Milan, Bourges, Bari, Vercelli and Perugia. The crowds sang patriotic songs and acclaimed the army and navy.

The government is communicating to the Powers its position respecting the phases of the conflict.

A dispatch from Genoa says that the Turkish consul there has received instructions to go to Turin and withdraw the Turkish exhibits from the international exposition.

A news dispatch from Tripoli says that a boarding party from the Italian squadron took possession of the Turkish transport which still had on board a part of her cargo of war supplies, surrendered without resistance.

The dispatch adds that in the event of the bombardment of Tripoli, Italian and other foreigners including newspaper correspondents will be taken on board the vessels of the Italian fleet.

The Duke of Abruzzi commanded the Italian squadron which engaged the two Turkish torpedo boat destroyers off Prevesa yesterday.

Another Appeal to Powers

Constantinople, Sept. 29.—The Turkish government addressed another appeal to the Powers today expressing its pain and surprise at Italy's action in declaring war yesterday and saying that there is still time to prevent the disastrous and evil effects of a war which nothing in the attitude of the Turkish empire justifies.

The Porte appeals to the peaceful, humanitarian and friendly sentiments of the Powers to assist in convincing Italy of the conciliatory intentions of Turkey and so prevent the useless shedding of blood and grief to thousands of families.

The government has asked the United States to take charge of the interests of Ottoman subjects in Italy.

The German ambassador to Turkey, Baron Marschal von Eberstein, notified the Porte this morning that Germany had assumed the protection of Italian subjects and interests in Turkey.—The Italians in Turkey number 50,000.

It was reported early to-day that an Italian warship had gone ashore near Tripoli. Later accounts state that the crew of the Turkish torpedo boat destroyer which was sunk in the harbor of Prevesa, in Cyprus by an Italian cruiser yesterday, escaped.

Martial Law

The war office announces measures to make the rule of martial law more severe. Public meetings and alarmist publications are prohibited and any movement calculated to effect public order will be immediately suppressed by force of arms. Sufficient troops have been stationed in convenient places to meet emergencies.

The committee of progress published the following:

"Italy at last has unmasked her hostile designs on Tripoli. The Italian charge has handed a note to the Porte, announcing the occupation of Tripoli province yesterday. The Ottoman nation prefers honor to life and indignantly repels the Italian audacity."

"There will be war between the two countries and our nation will employ every means against the enemy. Tripoli will be courageously defended. The Ottoman government will expel all Italians from Turkey and Italian schools and business houses will be closed."

"Our committee will employ all its influence to cause these measures to be applied in a calm spirit towards the nation which has trodden under foot our most sacred rights."

"We beg the population to remain tranquil and leave to the government the duty of acting against the Italians, thus demonstrating that Ottomans are more civilized and equitable than Italians who drove their government to the present action."

"We invite all children of the Fatherland to be united at this critical moment."

Engagement Off Prevesa

The principal newspapers use language of unmeasured violence against the Italians, while the Ottoman people are advised to show their patriotism by the strictest boycott of Italian products and at the same time to treat the Italians in Turkey as guests.

The government has decided to strengthen its military forces on the Greek and Montenegrin frontiers.

The official version of the engagement off Prevesa says that an Italian cruiser, accompanied by torpedo boats, attacked Turkish torpedo boat destroyers as the latter were leaving Prevesa. One of the Turkish vessels found refuge in Prevesa harbor while the other was struck by several shells and ran ashore. The crew was saved. The United States has been asked to take charge of the interests of Turkish subjects in Italy during the continuance of the war.

Will Defend Tripoli

The newspapers announce to-night that the minister of war, Mahmud Scheffer Pasha, has telegraphed to the Turkish commandment at Tripoli to defend that territory against the Italian declaration of war and the attack on the Turkish government.

The Turkish government seems to have reversed its decision not to defend Tripoli.

Attack Torpedo Boats

It is officially announced late today that Italian warships this morning attacked two Turkish torpedo boats off the port of Durazzo, on the west coast of Albania.

Berlin, Sept. 29.—Italy to-day sent a circular note to the powers, explaining her reasons for the action against Turkey, expressing the hope that the steps taken will be confined to the occupation of Tripoli.

The hostilities will be of short duration and more negotiations to fix the status of Tripoli will be begun soon, it is thought. It is also stated that Italy will endeavor to localize the hostilities.

The note closes with the assurance that the steps taken are in the interests of humanity and civilization and that no effort will be spared to protect the subjects of other nations in Tripoli.

Bullion For Turkey

London, Sept. 29.—The expected outbreak of hostilities between Turkey and Italy caused dealers on the stock exchange to-day to mark quotations in early anticipation of selling orders from various quarters. Turkish bonds were nominally three points lower, Italian bonds one and British consols one-quarter lower. Sellers did not expect good bidding resulted in the disappearance of the most of the decline.

The belief that the powers will induce Italy to grant substantial concessions to Turkey helped to bring about a cheerful hardening tone which prevailed.

FATAL RIOTS IN ITALY.

Chibasso, Switzerland, Sept. 20.—Advices from Italy deplore the fact that a very small majority of extremists continue the break in the unanimity which otherwise would support the government in one of the gravest moments in its foreign policy since Italian unity was established. In several places excessive vandalism exists.
Late reports describe the rioting at Lombard as more serious than first appeared. A mob cut the telegraph and telephone wires and tearing the poles down, used them to obstruct the railway tracks with the idea of hindering the movement of troops. Carabinieri who attempted to disperse the rioters were stoned and wounded and would have been gassed had they not resorted to their weapons. They fired into the mob, killing five persons and wounding twelve others. Among the dead was a woman.

EFFECTS MAY BE FAR REACHING

Lord Charles Beresford on Struggle Between Italy and Turkey

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—"I sincerely hope, in the interests of the world's peace, that means will be found to reach a compromise and thus save the national honor of both countries," said Lord Charles Beresford yesterday, in discussing the Tacko-Italian crisis over Tripoli.
"As a naval power Turkey is far inferior to Italy. I don't think any conflict between them would be characterized by any engagements at sea. With its formidable fleet Italy would have no difficulty in disposing of the Turkish warships. If such a conflict should happen to meet in the Mediterranean and capturing any transports which the Turks might attempt to forward to Tripoli.
"The strong objection to a struggle between the two powers is that it might have far-reaching consequences and destroy the relations between Christians and Mohammedans the world over, especially if the fulfilment of the prophet made it a jihad or religious war. This would mean a struggle between Christians and Mohammedans. Under such conditions Great Britain would become involved as she is suzerain over millions of people professing the Mohammedan religion and displaying a fanatical zeal that the average Christian does not realize. I have always maintained that when nations prepare to scrap that the English-speaking nations should get together and say in effect: 'You must postpone your fighting for another week.'
"This delay would enable statesmanship to negotiate a settlement. In the past we have many illustrations to show that if the thinking nations had had time to act war would have been averted. I have always believed that the United States would never have declared war against Spain if a week or two had been devoted to thinking it over. The danger of a sudden start of hostilities through the power of the democracy is now more acute than ever. In times of peace democracy is always shooting peace and disarmament. But let anything occur to suggest reflection on national honor and the democracy proves to be more inflammable than any other class. I made that statement in a debate in the House of Commons, and it was cheered by the labor members. Democracies are characterized by an uncontrollable rush of sentiment. I can cite two recent examples, the first one relating to the destruction of the battleship Maine in the harbor of Havana. Thinking men of the United States did not want war. It was the democracy, and the democracy forced the issue. Diplomatic action and debate would have averted hostilities.
"The other instance I have in mind is the Doggerbank affair during the Russo-Japanese war, when Russian warships passing through the North Sea during a fog mistook English fishing vessels for Japanese craft and, firing upon them, killed many innocent British subjects. If the democracy had had its way war would have been declared against Russia next day. The sentiment of the people and the press was decidedly for war. Happily the situation was averted by cooler heads and means were found by diplomatic action to reach a settlement without impairing the national honor of either country."

These are the chimney sparrows of pride, the insectivora who infest great cities, the microbes that live in the body of vanity.
The tight hold which class spirit has in England is not due to the nobility, but to the deep, ineffaceable admiration of the under classes for them that are on top. The plutocracy of America does not have its seat among millionaires, but among the cheap myriads who adore money and its luxuries misuse.

WITNESSES DENOUNCE COMPANIES' ACT

Declared to Be Deterrent to Commercial Development of Province

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—That the companies act, which taxes extra-provincial companies doing business in British Columbia, is a deterrent to the commercial development of the province, that the personal property tax is unjust in principle and should be abolished; that no higher rate of taxation should apply to crown-granted lands than to lease-held properties, and that all taxes should be removed from outside capital seeking investment in British Columbia, were the features of the evidence given before the provincial tax commission at its first session here yesterday.
Among those who argued before the commission, there was a great diversity of opinion as to what should be done with the poll tax. The majority favored it as far as the general principle went. Some of those who gave evidence thought that it should apply only to those who paid no other tax—municipal or provincial. Others thought it should apply to every man in British Columbia, rich and poor alike. Others, again, were of the opinion that it should be increased to $5, and some others wished to see it abolished.
Mr. McCandless, president of the Vancouver board of trade, gave evidence in the morning. It was he, he contended, the chief concern of the province to get capital for the development of her commerce. He did not believe that this commerce should be taxed. At this time the provincial legislation was to some extent at least, a deterrent to capital seeking investment in British Columbia. It was a question of whether or not it should apply to those who paid no other tax—municipal or provincial. Others thought it should apply to every man in British Columbia, rich and poor alike. Others, again, were of the opinion that it should be increased to $5, and some others wished to see it abolished.

BIG CONVENTION PLANNED

Three Thousand Delegates Will Attend Meeting of Electric Railway Association

New York, Sept. 26.—Arthur W. Brady of Indiana, president of the Electric Railway Association, is here making the final arrangements for the annual meeting of the organization to be held in Atlantic City October 8-12. Three thousand delegates, comprising the presidents and heads of departments of the electric railways of the United States and Canada, will attend the convention, which will be the most important meeting of the kind ever held. The delegates will represent electric lines operating 50,000 miles of track, employing 225,000 men, carrying ten million passengers a year and having a capitalization of $1,000,000,000, earnings of $40,000,000, and payrolls of $150,000,000. The convention will consider subjects relating to administration of street railways and the returns of the railways to employees and the public.

BRAVE WOMAN'S NERVE

A most extraordinary automobile accident occurred in Toronto at the corner of King and Bay streets, when Mrs. Bennett, of London, was run down by a car and carried half a block, sustaining no more serious injury than shattered nerves and soiled clothing. A woman was driving the car, and when she saw that she was going dangerously close to a pedestrian, she lost her head and turned the steering wheel the wrong way. Escape was impossible for Mrs. Bennett, and with extraordinary presence of mind when struck by the car she clutched the fender of the machine and hung on, her knees scraping the pavement, until the car crashed into the boarding in front of the new Bank of Toronto building. The machine was going with sufficient speed to take a wheel off when it struck the curb. Mrs. Bennett, who was accompanied by her husband, was the least excited of a large crowd who witnessed the accident. She said afterwards that she was not frightened very much till she saw that the car was carrying her up against the boarding. Then she thought she was going to be killed. She was taken back to her hotel in a taxicab.

THINKING THEMES

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

You never get the real taste of aristocracy and class till you come to the dress. Among automobile people and all them that are endowed in fitness, affluence covers up the real core of exclusiveness, which is nauseous, by a candy coat of art and manners. But when you come to the shabby - genteel, who are the high, you begin to understand. There is the poor creature who belongs to a family, whose uncle was a governor, whose ancestors, names, the microbes that live in the body of vanity.

The light hold which class spirit has in England is not due to the nobility, but to the deep, ineffaceable admiration of the under classes for them that are on top. The plutocracy of America does not have its seat among millionaires, but among the cheap myriads who adore money and its luxuries misuse.

These are the chimney sparrows of pride, the insectivora who infest great cities, the microbes that live in the body of vanity.
The tight hold which class spirit has in England is not due to the nobility, but to the deep, ineffaceable admiration of the under classes for them that are on top. ### WITNESSES DENOUNCE COMPANIES' ACT

Declared to Be Deterrent to Commercial Development of Province

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—That the companies act, which taxes extra-provincial companies doing business in British Columbia, is a deterrent to the commercial development of the province, that the personal property tax is unjust in principle and should be abolished; that no higher rate of taxation should apply to crown-granted lands than to lease-held properties, and that all taxes should be removed from outside capital seeking investment in British Columbia, were the features of the evidence given before the provincial tax commission at its first session here yesterday.
Among those who argued before the commission, there was a great diversity of opinion as to what should be done with the poll tax. The majority favored it as far as the general principle went. Some of those who gave evidence thought that it should apply only to those who paid no other tax—municipal or provincial. Others thought it should apply to every man in British Columbia, rich and poor alike. Others, again, were of the opinion that it should be increased to $5, and some others wished to see it abolished.
Mr. McCandless, president of the Vancouver board of trade, gave evidence in the morning. It was he, he contended, the chief concern of the province to get capital for the development of her commerce. He did not believe that this commerce should be taxed. At this time the provincial legislation was to some extent at least, a deterrent to capital seeking investment in British Columbia. It was a question of whether or not it should apply to those who paid no other tax—municipal or provincial. Others thought it should apply to every man in British Columbia, rich and poor alike. Others, again, were of the opinion that it should be increased to $5, and some others wished to see it abolished.

THE McNAMARA CASE

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 29.—A special venire of 12 possible jurors for the trial of the McNamara brothers was drawn yesterday, by Judge Bordwell. This is the first move in winnowing out jurors for the 30-day trial which will begin on October 1. The judge intends to listen to all ordinary excuses of the veniremen before the case actually begins, so that those who have legitimate reasons for seeking to be excused from jury duty may be eliminated from the list of those who will be examined by the attorneys.
Bordwell affirming that they had reached the decision as to a possible motion for a change of judges to preside at the trial, the attorneys for the accused men concluded another lengthy conference yesterday.
For the fourth consecutive day, John D. Fredericks, district attorney, was absent from his office. There were reports that he was away from the city on business connected with the McNamara case, and that he was staying at a rest preparatory to the long legal struggle ahead of him. His deputies maintained silence as to their chief's whereabouts.

HARRIMAN SYSTEM

Changes Have Been Made in the Administrative Policy of Lines.

New York, Sept. 29.—The new administrative scheme of the Harriman lines, which goes into effect at once, invests the big railroad system with five new presidents in place of R. J. Lovett, who, like Mr. Harriman, has been president of the executive committee, retains the chief executive authority with two chief lieutenants to assist him in his New York headquarters. The two lieutenants are Julius Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance, and L. J. Spence, director of traffic. The five presidents are: A. L. Mohler, president of the Union Pacific, with headquarters in Omaha; William Spruille, president of the Southern Pacific, with headquarters in San Francisco; Thorndell Fay, head of the Harriman lines in Texas and Louisiana, with headquarters at Houston and New Orleans; J. D. Farrell, president of the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation Company, with offices in Portland, Ore.; and Sage Randall, elected to the presidency of the Southern Pacific of Mexico, with headquarters at Tucson.

The above rules are made for the benefit of readers of the Times who insist upon the paper being delivered as early in the evening as possible.

BRITISH LABOR PROBLEMS.

The recent strike in Great Britain which for a brief period paralyzed business and threatened the organized life of the nation has resulted in the appointment of a parliamentary commission to take evidence and recommend as to the enactment of some measure tending to the protection of the public against similar disastrous affairs in future. The evidence which is being adduced before this commission is most interesting in its character as affording a revelation of labor problems and the attitude of labor generally toward organized effort for the amelioration of untoward circumstances of wage earners. The strike it will be remembered, originated among the dock laborers and spread to the employees of transportation companies, with the result that traffic, whether of passengers or food freight, was obstructed for a time long enough to cause hardship to the great extent.

It is difficult from the evidence so far given to discover the exact grievances which initiated the strike among the transportation employees, though the of the dock laborers was for shorter hours and better pay. It would appear that the railway men who struck did so for the purpose of testing the strength of their organizations, and through a desire to demonstrate the power of a sympathetic cessation of labor. One of the things clearly demonstrated in the evidence of the voluntary witnesses appearing before the commission is that labor organization is not nearly so thorough as upon the American continent. While there is class-consciousness it is of an entirely different kind from that which has been developed in America. In our own country the Socialistic version of the class distinction of laborers as opposed to capitalism represented in the employing classes, has obtained a much more deeply rooted and fixed hold than in the Mother Country. In Britain, though there is class-consciousness among workers for wages, it is of a much more conservative type and is naturally less belligerent. The working people of Britain seem to be the offspring of that class who have not yet recovered from the deeply settled distinction between those who serve and those who are served, and they accept the theory that there must be a serving class, with the limitations which they have been taught for centuries to associate with that position in society. The theory that one man is as good as another has not yet obtained a broadly sympathetic acceptance, and there is a more general disposition toward contentment in tolerable conditions than a determination to contend for what may be asserted by demagogues as the inalienable rights of the masses. It is this sentiment which has made many of the working men chary of unionism, and there is a much wider breach between union and non-union labor in the Old Country than exists in America. In the recent conflict the non-union men, in the transportation companies at least, may be said to have been about as sympathetic with their employers as they were with those who contended for an advance in pay and improved conditions of labor. The loss of time and consequent loss of wages during the time they were disorganized as a result of the strike meant more to the non-union men than the principle for which the strikers were contending. This has undoubtedly alienated many non-union men from whatever sympathy they formerly had with the objects of the unions.

More than this, the British workman has a strong conviction of the theoretical rights of employers and, by nature and training, leans more toward the welfare of his employer who has been fair to him, according to his own conception of fairness, than he does toward those who would disturb the conditions under which he is regularly employed. In matters of labor as well as living conditions the British laborer is the true Conservative, his motto being "Let well enough alone."

The employing classes also have a horror of contentions with the employed. They also retain, even to a greater extent, the theories of the feudal system, and cannot understand why a laborer who is fed and housed should desire anything better.

This was exemplified in the evidence of one of the directors of the Great Northern Railway who represented that corporation before the commission. He spoke for his class and expressed a reluctance on the part of such corporation to treat with unions or delegations excepting for the discussion of individual or sectional grievances. The companies, he said, were willing to meet men who had such grievances, but such conferences must be entirely voluntary on the part of the corporations and without the aid of the law. Thus all suggestions looking toward such legislation as is embodied in the Conciliation Act of Canada, known as the Lemieux Act, are stoutly resisted by the corporations. They have always been willing to meet their men, but they object to any parliamentary enactment which will compel them to respect a law requiring them to do so. They fear that such a law, if enacted, will compel them to admit a right which would compromise them in their negotiations. In other words, they wish it to remain understood that meeting their employees to hear grievances is a favor bestowed by the employing class on another class, and not necessarily an act of justice.

The laboring classes, also, are unwilling to undertake to bind themselves to abide by the findings of a conciliation commission, at least the unionized portion of society. Their sentiments, in the main, as expressed in the evidence before the commission, are in opposition to the enforcement of a conciliation law.

THE COMFORT OF HOME

Depends largely on warmth. No house can be cheerful unless it is well heated. No house can be well heated unless good fuel is used. People who use our coal find it always satisfactory, because it is the cleanest, highest grade of coal mined.

V. I. COAL CO.

On the whole it may be said that union labor on the American continent is far in advance of that in the British Isles. The latter, however, appear to have an advantage in the fact that their leaders, both in and out of parliament, are a superior class of men both in their familiarity with sound economic principles and their desire for justice.

SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE.

It is somewhat instructive and to some extent amusing in view of the rejection of the reciprocity agreement with the United States to find the financial journals of Canada encouraging the development of trade with South America. It is regarded as a favorable feature that our commercial organizations are devoting such attention to the possibilities of trade with our republican neighbors at the south of the Equator.

It may be interesting to know that the amount of British capital invested in South American countries which are in no political way related to the British empire amounts to $4,800,000,000 in round figures, or nearly four times as much British capital as was invested in Canada at the end of 1910. The investment in both countries since that date will approximately maintain the same ratio.

The chief countries in South America which have been so favorably regarded by British capitalists are the Argentine Republic, Brazil, Chili and Uruguay. In the first of these the money invested reaches the enormous sum of four and one-half billion dollars. Doubtless much more British capital would have found its way into southern investments had the political conditions been more favorable. For half a century there was scarcely a year passed—never a decade—without serious unrest, revolution and anarchy throughout the whole South American continent, and these seriously retarded commercial development, which requires a certain basis of governmental stability.

The United States, France, Italy, Spain and Portugal also have large investments in South America, and each of these nations, with Great Britain, is competing for the distribution of trade.

Canada has hitherto transacted only a comparatively small amount of business with South America. Argentine trade is the most important, the returns for last year showing a commerce of $5,040,330, while Chili and Brazil together did not exceed $2,000,000.

As the Argentine Republic is one of the greatest wheat producing countries in the world and as the wheat fields of that continent are largely owned by British investors it can scarcely be expected that Canada will face lavishly at the hands of the British purchasers of our staple commercial commodity. Indeed, with the vastly preponderating amount of money invested in South America by the British fortune hunters, Canada can expect no favors in the home market in competition with British wheat growers and merchants from the Argentine. The phlegmatic British people are not sentimental in the matter of business, and one of the greatest evidences of this is the enormity of their investments in an alien country in preference to their own overseas dominions. Whatever British capital comes to Canada will not come because of sentimental regard for the Dominion by British investors; it will come because John Bull thinks it a good investment irrespective of flag, offspring, empire or anything else.

Since the United States markets are now closed to Canadian traders except against the embargo of a tariff on goods exported to that country, we must continue to pay subsidies to our steamship companies to carry our merchantable products abroad. We shall not sell any wheat to the Argentines nor will farm products find a ready market in that luxuriantly agricultural country. The most of our exports must, therefore, be of manufactured articles, and with these we shall enter into competition with all the countries of the world. Our manufacturing industries will, however, continue to prosper, because the home consumer pays the price and, with the tariff protection against foreign purchase, he cannot help himself. The reflection is comforting.

Costumes in Tweeds and Venetian Cloths at $13.75 Imported Tweed Coats At $11.75. $2.50 Corsets for $1.50 and Boy's Suits at $2.90

Beautiful Costumes in Tweed Mixtures and Venetian Cloths at Near Half Price

This is the most remarkable offer that we have made this season. Had we not been exceptionally fortunate in making this special purchase we could not have sold these garments for less than $25.00, and we consider that even at that price they would represent full value for your money. They are handsome costumes, made of high grade tweed mixtures in the season's latest and most interesting styles, and a very choice selection of models made up in navy blue and black Venetian cloths. In tweeds there are some very attractive plain tailored models, some with patch pockets and turnback cuffs, lined throughout with good satin and neatly finished with double-stitched seams, while in plain Venetian cloths there are some beauties, many in plain tailored styles and others trimmed with pipings of contrasting colors and skirts finished with loose panels back and front. Had we purchased these costumes in the ordinary way not one of them would have been sold for less than $25, but this lucky purchase enables us to sell them to-day at..... $13.75

Women's Skirts--All Sizes--Prices Much Lower Than Usual

You can have your choice from a wide range of handsome Skirts in tweed mixtures and plain cloths, made up in all the latest and most effective styles, and worth up to $6.00, for $4.75 to-day. These skirts are part of a big purchase that we have been fortunate in making from an Eastern manufacturer who was anxious to reduce his stock to allow him to commence on his next season's goods. To accomplish this object he sold us his entire stock of Fall samples at a price that is far below their regular value, consequently we are able to make this special offer. They are made in plain gored styles and finished with double-stitched seams, and come in all sizes, so that there is little chance of your being disappointed. Special for to-day's selling price..... $4.75

A Choice Selection of Long Coats in Tweed Mixtures. Good Values

This line is so large and varied that it is most difficult to give a detailed description of them all or give you a fair idea of the great saving that every garment represents to the purchaser. Choosing should be easy from this lot, unless the wide range proves confusing almost every size, and the season's smartest models may be found amongst this lot. You can have your choice from smart Ulsters, heavy coats with military storm collars, large patch pockets and deep turnback cuffs suitable for traveling, etc., or from a wide range of more dressy models with round, pointed or square shawl collars. Roll collars and large revers trimmed in a variety of attractive styles suitable for street wear. In the ordinary way these suits would sell at $15, $17.50 and $20, but having made this purchase at a big discount we will dispose of them to-day at, each..... $11.75

Corsets Worth $2.50 a Pair For $1.50

Autumn and Winter will witness some important improvements in Corsets, the most notable of which are the extremely low bust, the greater length of corset skirt and the shortening of the boning.

As usual, the Bon Ton and the Royal Worcester were the first corsets to appear with all these improvements successfully combined, and we have every reason to believe that these new lines will be greatly appreciated by all.

Comfort has been the first consideration of the designers, and of course all that goes toward making a natural and graceful figure has been carefully considered, while the prices are well within the reach of all.

SPECIAL OFFER FOR TO-DAY

This being the 50th anniversary of the Royal Worcester and Bon Ton Corset Manufacturing company we are placing on sale—as a special advertising event—15 dozen pairs of the Royal Worcester Corsets known as the Golden Special and worth $2.50 a pair. In all sizes from 31 to 30, in white only, at $1.50 per pair.

Convincing Values in Boys' Clothing

This is a line that has received very careful attention this season, and there is no room for doubt—once you see these suits—that the quality is all that you can possibly desire.

To say that they are well tailored is not quite enough—because ordinary fine tailoring will not stand the rough and ready wear to which a lively boy's clothing is subject. They are specially tailored to meet the demand for something strong but stylish.

A special feature about these suits is the fact that an extra pair of pants to match the suit may be purchased at a very nominal price. The coats are double-breasted, and you have a choice between plain knee or knicker pants, in a variety of colors.

Prices ranging from $10 a suit down to $3.25.

THE HOUSE and the Home

It has been well said that there are plenty of houses but not enough homes. Most anyone can own a house of some kind or other, but for that home to be a "Home" in the fullest and best sense of the word it must be beautiful, within and without, artistic in its arrangement, and rich in its design. This does not, of necessity, imply extravagance or expense. The smallest house if properly designed may have the beauty and simple grandeur which a palace may lack. Everything depends upon the genius of the architect. If the plans for the house are conveniently drawn, conforming to the essential principles of architectural excellence, they will please the eye, and prove a perennial source of delight. Here in this office is an exhibition of sketches, plans and photographs which have been highly approved by home seekers and intelligent people generally. You are cordially invited to examine them.

Mrs. Williscroft, the president of the Union, presided, and was very heartily welcomed after her long absence. A pound party will be held at the mission next Tuesday, Oct. 3, from 3 to 5.30, when gifts of all kinds will be most welcome. In the evening a musical programme will be given. Refreshments will be served and a large attendance of friends is hoped for.

—About twenty-five candidates were presented last evening to the Bishop of Columbia, at the confirmation service in Christ Church cathedral, by Rev. William Barton. An impressive service was held, among the hymns being "O, Jesus, I Have Promised," "Thine Forever, God of Love," and "Veni Creator Spiritus." In addressing the candidates the bishop pointed out that the vows made for them in baptism were binding on all members of the Church, and the youngest boy or girl registered his or her intention of keeping the same, each time they said the catechism. Confirmation was something yet more serious. All evil thoughts and passions, all idle and careless ways of living had to be renounced that day forever. They promised that night to follow a new ideal of service for Christ. To the congregation in general the bishop said that in these days of religious controversy, and conflicting doctrines, it was a blessed privilege to come together, and witness such a ceremony; he asked the prayers of those present in behalf of the candidates.

—One thousand leaflets were distributed by the Political Equality League on election day in this city. The ladies who distributed the literature report that much interest was shown by voters in the small publications, so far the only propaganda literature issued by the Victoria League. Arrangements are being made by the League to hold a promenade concert in the Alexandra ballroom on October 18. A short play entitled "How the Vote Was Won" will be given during the concert by local actors, who are being coached in their parts by Miss Eugenie Fox, an elocutionist and a recent arrival in Victoria. It is expected that in the course of a few weeks the office rooms of the League, 607 Yates street, will be thrown open during the day to working girls of the city. Quantities of literature will be provided and the room made as attractive as possible. Girls who are in the habit of taking their lunches in town will be able to spend the noon hour there. News has been received that Mrs. Pankhurst will come to America on October 17 and will deliver a series of lectures on Woman Suffrage in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and other large cities of the east. She will arrive in Toronto about the middle of December, and may possibly pay a visit to the Pacific Coast.

Notice to Union Men!
The only amusement houses in the city employing union music are the following: Victoria Theatre, Romano management, two theatres; Majestic, Crystal and Bijou Theatres.

LIFE SAVING SOCIETY.

Proposal to Organize Branch Here—Preliminary Meeting Called.

A meeting has been arranged at the Balmoral hotel for Tuesday week to discuss the advisability of forming a branch of the Royal Life Saving Society in Victoria. This organization, which seeks to promote life-saving by means of educating the public in the methods of rescue and resuscitation, directing public opinion along the lines of taking greater interest in the art of swimming, and promoting demonstrations of correct methods of work, has a wide-spread influence in different parts of the British Empire, and last year awarded over eleven thousand proficiency certificates to members. The idea is to form a society for the province having its headquarters here. The local representative, P. R. Pomfret, will be glad to receive communications at P. O. Box 317 from persons interested in the movement. The assistance of bodies like swimming clubs, athletic organizations, and the heads of schools, as well as the Boy Scouts, and the police force will be welcomed by the promoters of the gathering.

—A meeting of the Daughters of Pitty was held in the Alexandra Club building on Monday last at 2.30 o'clock. Those present were Mrs. Hazel, the Misses Hiscocks, Lovell, Sealey, Sylvester, Garnham, Taylor, Ulin, Fawcett, and Mrs. Jameson. The Misses Taylor and Grant were welcomed as new members. Mrs. Jameson suggested starting a sinking fund for a new Jubilee hospital, which is very badly needed. The matter was discussed and approved and the sum of one hundred dollars was put aside for that purpose. The Misses Sylvester were appointed visitors at the hospital for the month of October. Thanks are extended to Messrs. W. H. Hall, Hinton & Co., Stuart & Co., Harrison & MacDonald, and Mrs. Bradley Dyer, and all other friends who so kindly contributed cake and bread during the exhibition week.

OPENING EXERCISES

AT GEORGE JAY SCHOOL

Institution Commences Second Year Under Favorable Auspices

The attendance at the commencement exercises at the George Jay school yesterday afternoon was exceptional, the visitors and pupils crowding the splendid auditorium to its utmost capacity. As the occasion was practically the first anniversary of the opening of this school, the exercises were marked by special enthusiasm.

The principal, Henry B. McLean, presided, and on the platform were George Jay, Rev. W. Stevenson, E. B. Paul, city superintendent of schools; Miss Boorman and J. G. Brown.

The principal feature of the day was the presentation of the special prize for the student passing the High School entrance examination with the highest marks, and no tregmatt Rightly was second in the Victoria schools, he carried off the prize given by Chairman Jay, the Fireside edition of the works of Charles Dickens. In presenting it Mr. Jay said he hoped this award would be the earnest of future success.

There were eleven successful candidates for the High School entrance: Francis Mooris, Hermie Lyons, Nora Moore, Vina Fawcett, Enda Finland, Madge Hampton, Reginald Rigby, Percy Wills, W. Stubbs, D. Staples and A. Wood. They received some good advice from Mrs. Jenkins, who hoped as they went forward they would not be ashamed of the small things of life, upon which the greater depended.

Mr. Paul, who distributed these certificates, hoped there would grow up an esprit de corps among them as they passed into the High school, and that in being loyal to their new institution they would not forget the George Jay school, in which the preliminary work was done.

Miss Dohrman, who has charge of the instruction in needlework in the schools, presented to Winifred Spouse, Thelma Machin and Gertrude Keatings, their prizes won in the recent needlework competitions at the provincial exhibition. She was able to convey the congratulations of the judges, a Vancouver lady, who specially commended the children's work. Fourteen prizes had been won by the schools, six in the senior grade, four in the intermediate class, and four in the Junior classes.

Addresses were given by Rev. W. Stevenson and J. G. Brown. The former said the large part of the success of a public school, as of any institution in which a large number of pupils went to make up the whole, consisted in the creation of a spirit of esprit de corps, and he was sure it existed in that school, which he understood had over 350 pupils on the register.

Mr. Brown gave some advice in his address, and said the school, while not first, had had a high percentage of marks at the annual competition. Among the musical items was a piano solo from Cassie Keefer, and several choruses were excellently rendered by the scholars as well as certain vocal exercises which reflected credit on the instructors.

LARGEST MOTOR SALES.

The Western Motor and Supply Company has received a letter from the Buick Motor Company stating that the Buick Company has for the second year in succession obtained the largest space and the choice of position for the annual Madison Square Garden automobile show, for the reason that it is the member of the association showing the largest volume of business any manufacturer has done during the year preceding the holding of the show.

This is a demonstration of the remarkable popularity of the McLaughlin-Buick automobile, whose sale is developing more rapidly probably than any of its competitors on this continent.

—A lecture on Single Tax will be given in Institute Hall by Henry George, Jr., on October 11. Mr. George is the foremost lecturer of the Henry George Association, and there is no doubt that many will take advantage of this opportunity to hear him.

—F. J. Stapcoole, K. C., has obtained a ruling in chambers from Chief Justice Hunter for the dismissal of the action Pemberton v. Cropper as it stands, on the ground that the required one month's notice of intention to prosecute, necessary pursuant to order 6, rule 12, has not been given, nothing having been done for one year.

Y. M. C. A. ROOMS HAVE

THRONGS OF VISITORS

Boys' Day Proves Great Success—Open House to Young Men of the City

The new Y. M. C. A. buildings were full to overflowing last evening when the series of receptions which have been arranged for the opening week were continued. The occasion was specially for the boys of the city, and they and their friends, filled the rooms and the staircases. There was a meeting for them in the auditorium, over which Horace Knott presided, and there an address was given by Tracey Strong, of the Seattle Y. M. C. A. During the progress of the gathering L. A. Young played a cornet solo and Mrs. J. B. McCallum gave a reading. Refreshments were served and the buildings were subsequently inspected.

Great interest was taken in the demonstrations of gymnastics and swimming, particularly the latter. From the nature of events the gymnastic classes have not had that chance for practice which the swimming club has enjoyed, and therefore it was possible to give more polish to the tank exercises than the gymnasium display, although the exercises were sufficient to bring out the splendid opportunities afforded the boys and youths of the city for physical training in the new institution.

Down in the swimming tank the demonstrations received a large measure of applause, exhibitions of the different strokes being given as follows: Breast, L. Godfrey; side, W. D. Muir; back, J. McNeil; trudgen, E. Crompton, and crawl, J. Thom. Displays of underwater swimming were given by W. McNeil and J. Cameron and the exhibition of P. R. Pomfret of fancy strokes and self-control strokes were made amid much interest, as he showed himself a master of the nautical art. The novelty race of the previous evening was repeated, the contestants having to swim in night attire a length of the tank, take lighted candles and return to the starting point without extinguishing the light.

The popular relay race between teams headed by the captain and vice-captain of the club was won by the vice-captain's team. Another water polo match between the Fifth Regiment and the Y. M. C. A. ended as an earlier one had done during the week in the victory of the Y. M. C. A. by four goals to nothing. The diving exhibition of F. Crompton, J. Cameron and Harding should also be mentioned as a pleasing feature of the display.

During the evening the Boy Scouts' band rendered selections and assisted in the harmony of the evening.

To-day there has been arranged an elaborate programme. During the morning the swimming tank was given over to the boys of the public schools, separate hours having been arranged for the accommodation of the different schools and this afternoon the young men of the city were invited to make a tour of inspection of the institution. This evening there will be another demonstration of gymnasium and swimming exercises, and among the latter features will be a match between the local Y. M. C. A. and the Vancouver Athletic Club, and the clubs' representatives will also swim a relay race. A. Cotter of the C. A. S. A. will referee.

W. N. Mitchell will preside over the meeting in the auditorium and C. R. Sayer, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in western Canada, will deliver the address.

A great mass meeting has been arranged for to-morrow afternoon at the Victoria theatre, the proceedings to be opened by a sacred concert. C. C. Michener has accepted the invitation to address the meeting on "The Demand for Strong Men."

WESTMINSTER TEAM NOT DISORGANIZING

Springs Will Stay — Welsh Says He Will Have Some Vancouver Players

New Westminster, Sept. 30.—The reports in various papers regarding the future of the New Westminster lacrosse team has brought out a direct answer from C. A. Welsh denying the same. A Toronto dispatch stated that the two Spring brothers and Buck Marshall had signed with the Toronto team this being the outcome of Percy Quinn's trip to the coast this year. It has also been reported that the B. C. E. has taken up a majority of the shares in a company which had been formed last week for the purpose of handling the club affairs. Mr. Welsh is now in the States to make a survey of the situation there. He states that all of this year's players will sport the red of this year's jersey with the exception of Sandy Gray, who has signified his intention of dropping out of the club; Bun Clark will take his place. Fitzgerald and Sport Minton are also commingled to New Westminster. It is the intention to form a limited liability company and run the concern as a close corporation. Says Welsh:

"Westminster will bring back that cup next year and we have the players to do it. With a team the strongest the Dominion, I hope to make a lacrosse the summer sport. The thought, and we will give the people the best run for their money.

"A fully qualified trainer will be installed, whose word will be law. We are taking big money, the players will be compelled to turn out to practice and if they do not attend to business there will be a vacancy for a man who will be more anxious to live up to the rules and regulations. Those who may be prone to think they are the whole work owing to the fact that they are 'swelled-headedness,' will soon be dispensed with.

"I have been forced into this position by the public demand and the intention is to give the best there is. 'I will say right now that 1912 will be the beginning of a new era in playing lacrosse, with regard to the equipment we are using. If the decision is made to vote at the coming (to be) in action at the old camping grounds; if not, we will arrange to have grounds and stands at Moody park."

INDICATIONS POINT TO RECORD CROWD

Lacrosse Match at Vancouver To-day Arousing Keen Interest

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Ten minutes after the reserved seat plan for the Minto Cup game on Saturday between the Tecumseh and Vancouver was opened the entire seating accommodation in the grandstand, with the exception of fifty-two tickets, had been sold. That indicates the keen public interest in this first reference of the vice regal silverware by the new champions, and the indications are that the record crowd of the last game between Westminster and Vancouver will be touched again. The bleacher seats also went rapidly. Tickets for both games in both sections are on sale and there has already been a heavy call for the second game the following Saturday.

The opinion in inner lacrosse circles is growing that the Tecumseh are going to prove much more dangerous opponents than was first estimated. The confident manager of the Vancouver team in action is partly responsible for this feeling. The easterners have a mighty tricky home, and though their field appears to be weak compared to Vancouver's peerless middle section, yet the defence is strong and tough. Roy Kinsman in goal is claimed by Manager Charlie Querrie to be head and shoulders over every other goaltender in the N.L.U., while Graydon is so good that President Con Jones would like to land him for next year's Vancouver team. McGregor and McDonald of the home division are both westerners, and they have the both habit of boring in on the defence. Both are excellent goalkeepers.

Bob Cheyne, the former goalkeeper of the New Westminster lacrosse team, has been selected to referee both matches, to-day and on October 7. There is little betting on the game, as the backers of the Tecumseh are demanding 1 to 2 1/2.

Lord Desborough will face the ball off and will be assisted by the Duke of Sutherland and Lord Charles Beresford.

TREMENDOUS ADVANCE IN LOCAL CRICKET

Annual Report of Victoria Cricket Club's Secretary Discloses Many Facts

The tremendous progress made by the Victoria Cricket Club during the 1911 season, and the even greater things in prospect for it, are amply testified to in the report of the secretary, Crawford Coates, which follows:

Almost entirely through the efforts of Alexis Martin, the V.C.C. wiped out a large financial deficit, starting 1911 with a clean sheet. This, with the aid of an interested and active committee, gave such an impetus to the club as to make the writing of this report in disconnected paragraphs a matter of necessity.

The club inaugurated the policy of promoting the interest in cricket and its allied sports throughout the city by organizing its associate and junior memberships by giving 1911 membership for the best batting and bowling averages in the junior competition; by coaching the school teams and allowing the Collegiate school to use the V.C.C. grounds for practice; by holding two matches open to all comers, thus discovering new material which afterwards became useful for other clubs; by assuming the responsibility of, and sending a team to Portland, Ore., which team, though beaten, stimulated cricket in that city; and by fulfilling a promise of many years' standing; by arranging for the Kelowna cricket in 1912, and by being financially responsible for the visit of the Frankford C.C. of Philadelphia, and the ball at Alexandra Club in their honor. Even in its selection of teams, the committee went on the broad system of trying out all new members, as many outsiders thought, to an extent detrimental to the club's prestige. Such, however, was not the case, as the club has wound up the season in a blaze of glory—42 new members elected in one year; 74 members batted in club games; 52 members bowled in club V.C.C. grounds, or an average of three and a quarter games a week, and two eleven in the field the entire season. Ladies' addition was made to the club house, also visitors' dressing room and storage closet for equipment, not to mention many other minor improvements to buildings and grounds.

Thanks to Mr. Drake and Mr. Blakemore, we have a fine set of screens and the best scoreboard on the coast. Regarding equipment, few clubs can boast of rubber handles for club bats, guards, gloves, etc., sufficient to fully equip a first-class team. The committee's confidence was not misplaced. Twenty-six members in the batting averages of from 10 to 32 and ten with bowling averages below 15 surely upheld this statement.

In the list of averages some surprises will appear. A surprise to some is a pleasure to all is that our year junior heads the senior batting and bowling list for those who have played in five games or more. Both his averages are remarkably good—batting for 13 runs in an average of 39 runs per innings, and bowling 37 wickets at the cost of 8.65 runs per wicket. Congratulations to Sholtoys Gillette.

Three batsmen passed the 500-run mark for the season, while L. S. V. York (our noble captain), who took two much prize catches, secured the 100 wicket mark, a most remarkable feat for a slow bowler. Ninety wickets at the cost of only ten runs per wicket.

Really, a special report would be written of this year's cricket, as it will take up too much of your time at this meeting and the grounds are almost inseparable. He was always at his post and attended to his duties, placing the grounds in excellent condition. His ability with bat and ball, though little chance of bowling averages, and batting 15.55, are both a credit to the club.

The latter does not include a 58 against Kelowna when he played for Saanich.

Everyone who attended a tea at the grounds can vouch for the charm, grace and beauty of these thoroughly enjoyable functions. The ladies are a credit to the club. If any of the members appreciate their labor of love has been invaluable in this and many other ways. Next year we hope they will be able to arrange for some tennis, croquet and golf matches, including the men's mixed doubles.

The Gillespie family, in presenting a trophy shield for junior competition, is the keynote of successful long life to cricket in Victoria. This trophy was won by the University school in competition with the High and Collegiate schools.

The Victoria Cricket Club now has 11 junior members, and should make every effort to enter an XI in competition for this trophy next year.

Looking forward, a permanent cricket home is an absolute necessity. Already we have allowed several opportunities to slip through our fingers. Let us all give what assistance for this purpose, and not allow another season to pass without something definite being done.

You know we won the Pacific Coast tournament for 1911, and that we were the only club to defeat the Philadelphia on their tour, and to record the end of the season with all our important games, but may be you don't know the vast amount of work attached to the executive department. In the capacity of assistant honorary secretary, Mr. Maurice Cane deserves the club's genuine vote of thanks for his services in notifying the 125 members each week that they were selected to play Saturday next. It is a thankless task.

Genetmen, we cannot overlook the power of the press. From the beginning of the season the Times placed their entire staff at our disposal. They did everything in their power to popularize the game, even giving a room free of charge for cricket headquarters during tournament week. Our indebtedness should not be measured with mere words.

Considering associations, beauty of surroundings, upbuilding of character, general healthfulness of the pastime, is there any sport which surpasses the mental and honorable game of cricket?

SPORT NOTES

The first serious football accident of the season has put John Thompson, of St. Joseph's college, Philadelphia, in a hospital for eight weeks with a fractured leg. He was playing on the scrub team against a regular team when one of the players whom he tackled fell upon him.

Johnny Kibane, of Cleveland, and Frankie Conley, of Kenosha, to-day will meet in the Vernon arena, Los Angeles, Cal., at 3:30 in a scheduled 20-round bout. It is said the winner will be the legitimate challenger of Abe Attell for the featherweight championship.

Joe Hancock, matchmaker of the Pacific Athletic Club announced today that a twenty-round bout between Sam Langford and Joe Jeannotte had been arranged for the Vernon arena, Los Angeles, October 28.

The application of the Hillhurst football team, of Calgary, Alberta, for permission to play specified matches in England was granted by the football association to-day.

The Centennial Athletic Association are holding a practice of their football team at the grounds on the corner of Burnside road and Carroll street this afternoon.

According to a Toronto exchange Toronto will have two hockey teams in the Eastern Hockey association this year, namely, Tecumseh and Toronto. The Tecumseh Lacrosse club has secured the franchise in the Eastern Hockey league. Percy Quinn will manage the Tecumseh and Charlie Querrie the Toronto.

Court Victoria A. O. F. will hold its regular meeting in the Broad street hall on Wednesday next at 7:30 p. m. Candidates will be initiated. At the close of the meeting a dance will be held for the benefit of the Forester football players.

A strong team in the senior league this year, which by the way inaugurates their entry into senior ranks. The following have signed: Fisher, Attwell, Selfe, Martin, Waring, Price, Douglas, Crocker, Lane, Thackeray, Gudgeon, Patry, Lanston, Brewis, Pickering, Stubbs, Tompkins, Riddley, Carr, Fletcher, Sawyer, Watt, Bourne, Maynard and Jay. A practice game will be held at Macaulay Point to-day starting at 2 p. m., and all the players are requested to turn out.

Contradictory reports concerning the increase match between the Vancouver amateur champions of the Pacific Coast, and the Young Toronto, holders of the Mann cup, for the amateur championship of the world are coming in thick and fast. To-day the teams were scheduled to meet and, taking everything into consideration, it is likely that the match is on. Just the same the Vancouver News-Advertiser came out with the following yesterday: "Vancouver's amateur lacrosse team will not meet Young Toronto in after all. The local boys are now in Toronto, ready to play, but as the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada has professionalized the Young Toronto, it is not likely that the Vancouver players will jeopardize their amateur status by competing, and unless the Vancouver team is to defend the Mann Cup some amateur team to defend, Western sportsmen will offer a trophy for competition among the senior amateur clubs of the world."

EXODUS FROM DAWSON NOW IN FULL SWING

River Steamers Carrying Many People to Coast Towns—Survey Party Quits

Dawson, Y. T., Sept. 30.—The big annual exodus is now in full swing. Every boat has a full load of passengers bound for outside points for their winter vacation. Lower river boats arriving are filled with passengers from Iditarod, Fairbanks and other camps. The packet Sarah, on her last trip brought 170 including seventy-seven members of the boundary survey party, from Porcupine river. The boundary men have 150 horses, which will winter on the White River, there being good grazing there all winter. Superintendent Taylor of the White Pass company says that the last steamer from White Horse for points below here sailed on last Monday when the packet Sarah took sixty tons of freight and eighty sacks of mail.

The British tug Bermuda has arrived at Tacoma from Ladysmith with a scow of ore for the Tacoma smelter. The British steamer Selkirk has also arrived there from Ladysmith with ore for the smelter.

The Robert Dollar Company states that the new steamer Robert Dollar, en route from Antwerp for San Francisco, with cargo for Henry Lund & Co., will load lumber on the sound for the Orient.

SKIPPER FALL IN LINE OF STRIKERS

Captains of British Mercantile Fleet Discussing Proposal to Seek Higher Pay

Convinced that something must be done in these times of rising values, the deepwater ship captains of the British mercantile fleet are discussing the advisability of inaugurating a strike movement, world-wide in its scope, unless the owners should decide to raise their salaries commensurate with the increased cost of living. The plan laid out is to arrange for calling out the captains of every merchant marine vessel abroad if the concessions should not be granted. The majority of the off-shore skippers have families living in Europe whom they have to support, and they declare they find it difficult to meet expenses at the salaries given them.

Everything has gone up in price except their wages, which remain the same as years ago. Even the sailors, dockmen and all others, directly or indirectly connected with shipping in Europe, have enjoyed substantial increases in pay. It is said that there are 18,000 captains and officers in the British merchant service, and if they should walk out as a result of demanding higher salaries, the shipping business throughout the world would be paralyzed. It would be impossible to fill their places.

This latest shipping strike is meeting with the sympathy of every skipper, and the deep sea men in every port are talking the matter over. A general strike would shut nearly every ship plying the seas, and no doubt if the demand was made to the steamship companies by the captains they would receive their extra wage. At Portland the sea-faring men have started an active campaign, and it is spreading fast throughout all the seaports of the world.

SAILS FOR YOKOHAMA WITH MONSTER CARGO

Panama Maru Gets Away for Oriental Ports With Large Shipment of Wheat

With every inch of her cargo space filled with freight of some description or another, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Panama Maru, Capt. Moto, sailed from the outer wharf for Yokohama and oriental ports at noon today. The bulk of her mammoth cargo consisted of wheat and flour amounting to about 4,000 tons. It was loaded at Tacoma and Seattle and valued at $142,000. The enormous movement of flour into China is explained by the recent floods which destroyed the crops there. Nearly every steamship of all the trans-Pacific lines have been booked for the next four months to take cargoes of wheat and flour to Chinese ports. Besides her great shipment of the food-stuffs, the Maru has about 2,000 tons of general merchandise, including heavy consignment of machinery, sewing machines, phonographs, cotton and fish.

Taking on a big shipment of flour and wheat at the Tacoma and Seattle mills the Blue Funnel liner Omba will have a capacity cargo when she departs from here next Wednesday. She will have equally as large a shipment as the Maru, but will carry about five thousand tons more of general cargo. In regard to the grain movements advices were received here yesterday stating that all available cargo space on the entire fleet of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha has been booked for the next four months and the greatest movement of flour to the Orient in the history of the Pacific Northwest will soon be under way. Officers of the steamer Kamakura Maru, which arrived from the Orient yesterday said that capacity cargoes, the greatest part of which will be flour loaded on Puget Sound, will be carried by the Sado Maru, Kamakura Maru, Inaba Maru, Awa Maru, and Tanba Maru well into the new year.

TAKES OUT BIG CARGO. Omba Loading Large Shipment of Wheat and Flour—Much Lumber Aboard

Portland, Sept. 30.—When the Waterhouse liner Omba, here from Seattle, leaves next week for the Queen City she will take out the largest cargo that has ever left Portland on a Waterhouse vessel. Officials of the line say the Omba will sail from here with 8,000 tons dead weight of freight for Japan ports, Hongkong and Manila, principally hay. The cargo that will be loaded here will consist of approximately 60,000 barrels of flour, 1,000 tons of wheat and 500,000 feet of lumber. Some cargo which was to have gone out on the Omba will be taken out by the steamship Ryala, of the same line, which is due here from Hongkong and way ports in Japan about October 1.

The Port of Portland Commission practically has decided to haul vessels for nothing if the opposition of the Puget Sound Tugboat Company, of Seattle, proves strong enough to cripple its business. As a result of its invasion of the Seattle Company the commission has ordered that two more pilots be engaged. There is an annual deficit in the service now, and the country may have a costly bill to foot if a rate war is started.

The British steamer Belle of Scotland left Friday Thursday evening for Portland, where she will load lumber for Salina Cruz for account of G. W. McNear.

The barkentine Amaranth arrived at the Golden Gate Thursday from New castle with coal for J. & A. Brown. She is under charter to Hind, Ralph & Co., to load lumber on the Sound or Willapa Harbor for the west coast of South America at $15.

HUNDREDS OF MILES OF C. P. R. BRANCHES

Pioneer Prairie Road Extending Through Wheat Country in Every Direction

Settlers coming into Canada next year will have at their services many miles of new railway lines for transportation into new sections of the prairie provinces. In Saskatchewan alone the Canadian Pacific railway has at present under construction nearly six hundred miles of new branch lines. Hundreds of gangs of laborers and track layers are at work in various parts of the country, and surveys are at work mapping out other lines in all parts of the province. As fast as these lines are completed and inspected, regular services are being inaugurated, so that when the early rush of new settlers to the West next spring, there will be plenty of new territory opened up. The largest of the new lines in Saskatchewan being built by the C. P. R. is that between Regina and Colonsay.

This line runs almost directly north from Regina until Craven is reached, when it branches off in a westerly direction to the Winnipeg-Edmonton line. It is 123 miles from Colonsay to Regina, and on this a service will shortly be inaugurated, a distance of 43.7 miles. South of Imperial track-laying has advanced another twenty-five miles. This line passes through a splendid farming country, which will be thickly settled before long. Another of the C. P. R. branch lines in Saskatchewan of over a hundred miles in length is between Outlook and Kerrobert. This is really the middle division of the Moose-Jaw-Macklin branch. Services has been operated for some time between Macklin and Kerrobert and Outlook and Moose Jaw, but there are still several miles of the middle division to be built. When it is finished the entire branch will be 267 miles long and will eventually form a junction with the Lacombe-Castor branch at Kerrobert. This new line will be a great boon to all classes in Saskatchewan, for not only will the farmers along the right-of-way benefit, but it will give the towns and cities in its territory direct new connections with Winnipeg, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago. A third big C. P. R. branch under construction in Saskatchewan is from Weyburn to Lethbridge. Up to March of this year track on this line had been laid as far as Ogema, fifty-two miles from Weyburn. There is now a through service between Weyburn and Ogema. On the rest of the line from Ogema westward, grading was commenced in May of this year, and up to last month 50 per cent. of it had been completed up to mile sixty. This line when completed will permit of a new route from Portland, Oregon to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Chicago, and it will also open up a very fertile country. From Swift Current there are being built two branches—northwest and southeast. Both of these branches were only started three months ago, but on each 50 per cent. of the grading is now completed. The first named branch will give good transportation facilities to the farmers near the South Saskatchewan river. There are also two branches being built from Wilkie; one of the branches reaches out in a northerly direction, and the other in a southeasterly direction. On the former, which is 26 miles long, there is 75 per cent. of the grading completed, while on the latter out of 30 miles there is 15 per cent. of the grading finished. The southern branch from Wilkie will be further supplemented by a branch running from Kerrobert in a northeasterly direction. With these two branches completed, transportation facilities for the farmers in the country through which they pass will be unsurpassed, and they will probably prove a big factor in the inducing of new settlers to locate in that locality. This branch from Kerrobert, northeasterly, will be 25 miles long. Up to date eight miles of grading have been completed. On the Batevan, northwest branch, there are 15 miles of new track under construction by the Canadian Pacific

"THE TOYS AWAKE."
 This big local production will be played next Wednesday night, October 4, at the Victoria theatre, under the patronage of His Honor Lieut-Governor Patterson and Mrs. Patterson, Premier and Mrs. McBride, Hon. James Dunsen and Mrs. Dunsen, and His Worship Mayor Morley and Mrs. Morley. Echoes of the press from places where the play has been given are as follows: "It would be impossible to write all the pleasant things said about the exquisite spectacular children's entertainment, 'The Toys Awake.'"—Herald, Rome, Ga. "The Toys Awake" was given last night to one of the largest audiences of the season. It was beyond criticism, and the directors are to be congratulated on their success."—London Free Press. "A crowded house filled with enthusiastic and interested people witnessed one of the most elaborate and pleasing productions in the spectacular children's play, 'The Toys Awake' that has ever been played before the public in this city."—The Index, San Bernardino, Cal. "The fairy spectacle, 'The Toys Awake,' was produced at the Grand last night, and it is many a moon since such a pretty picture of this type has been on the local stage. The play will be repeated this afternoon and this evening, and will undoubtedly draw large audiences."—London Advertiser. "The 'Toys Awake' at the Casino on Thursday night delighted the audience beyond all expectation. No description can do justice to the charm and radiance of this performance in which 200 children of this city took part, and much credit is due Miss Adams and Mr. Ford for the wonderful results of their training."—Tampa Morning Tribune. "The prettiest picture ever observed on the stage of the Genover theatre was seen last night in the spectacular production, 'The Toys Awake.' Judge Dowling, in his resplendent robes, was a majestic looking king, and Miss Helen Monson was a regal queen. The costumes were of costly material, and were exceptionally beautiful in design."—Record, St. Augustine, Fla. "The hour of adversity seems to contain more than sixty minutes. Experience may be the best teacher, but some people prefer a more fashionable school."

LABOR COMPLAINT ON THE ROSS BAY SEA WALL

Civic Committee to Hold Investigation Into Protest of Trades and Labor Council

A deputation from the Building Trades Council last night waited on the city council with a complaint that the Westhollow Lumber Company, as contractors for the Ross Bay sea wall, are discriminating against regular mechanics and workmen of Victoria and are employing cheap labor in place thereof. The deputation explained that this course is in direct opposition to the terms of the contract, and the council appointed Aldermen Langley and Foden and Fair Wage Officer Northcott to hold an investigation and report the result of its inquiries to the city council. An irregular proceeding is complained of by the trades council in that the contractors are requiring eight hours work for the men employed, but that they require the men to fulfill the eight hours at such times as the contractors think fit. The men are called to work at 7 a. m. and then jumped to a night shift, being told to go to work at midnight. Resentment at this order has led to the explanation that the contract has been taken at too low a figure and that the hours as called for in the contract specifications could not be lived up to, therefore the men could take the work or quit if they did not like it. Frederick Webb, for the deputation, said the specifications called for the same conditions of labor as are usual in the trades. At first it was proposed that an injunction be applied for against the contractors, but after consideration it was decided the city council could control the matter. There are eight men who are concerned in the matter, and these are residents of Victoria and as ratepayers claim they should be upheld by the city council. "Owing to the conditions of labor insisted on by the contractors he said the men resent and their places are taken by unqualified workmen and ordinary laborers. Mr. Webb said the same thing is happening in the painting of the Point Ellice bridge, where improperly qualified workmen were employed. On the resolution of Ald. W. F. Fullerton the committee to investigate was appointed.

Q.—Did you see Hill in regard to the... A.—He admitted that there was an arrangement with Hill but denied that it was for two cents.

Mr. Maclean objected. The new line of argument had no bearing on the subject, he said. The mayor insisted, however, and asked witness if he saw Pat McHugh on that occasion. Witness said he did not.

Q.—Did you see any other note by Hill? A.—No. I only heard of it. Mayor Morley then asked witness if he ever heard of Fitzgerald, the lightning calculator who was in the room when the bids were being considered.

Q.—What did you expect a share of the $10,000 for? A.—For trying to do what I could for the company legitimately.

Q.—Then you have no knowledge of any attempt to improperly influence any aldermen or city officials? A.—No, sir.

Q.—And you never imagined that the $5,000 or $10,000 was to be paid for the corruption of aldermen or city officials? A.—I don't see where corruption entered into my $5,000 at all. I think I earned it.

Q.—Your whole connection with this matter has been honest? A.—I have no knowledge of any dishonesty.

Q.—You would not have accepted a cent of that money if you thought it had been connected with corruption? A.—I cannot see where it is connected with corruption.

Q.—Would you have accepted it? A.—I would not have been in it if it meant corruption.

Q.—You made a claim against the company? A.—Yes. I went to Rostrum. Q.—What did he say? A.—He said it was all foreign to him.

Q.—Rostrum is the man running the company here and you knew that you would have to establish your claim with him? A.—Yes.

Q.—Did he pay your claim? No, sir. He said he would take it up with A. J. Hill. He suggested that I had been "screwed" and offered to make a proposition. I myself had doubts about O'Brien being on the level.

Q.—What did you get for the $1,000 for? A.—For services rendered. Q.—Were they corrupt services? A.—Certainly not.

Mr. Maclean here showed witness his receipt to the company and his avowal that he had no further claims against the company, which was identified and acknowledged.

Q.—Then you have no further claims against the company? A.—No; my claims are against O'Brien and Hill. Coming to the statement witness declined that these corroborated charges.

Q.—What do you call it? A.—I call it a statement. Q.—Did the mayor call you in and cross-examine you? A.—No, he didn't.

Q.—What were you trying to gain? A.—I was trying to gain nothing. Q.—You wanted to get level with the C. M. R. Co., did you not? A.—No. I have no spite against them. The only person who double-crossed me is O'Brien.

Q.—Is that the reason, then, that you are trying to get even? A.—I am not trying to get even with anybody. I only made the statement to the mayor, and when he asked me if I would put it in writing, I said yes.

Q.—Come, now, tell us your motive? A.—Had no motive. Why I have even heard that the mayor is getting a rake off. I told him so myself.

Q.—Why didn't you go to a lawyer and put it in the form of an affidavit? A.—I didn't think it was necessary.

Q.—But you must have had some motive. What was it? A.—It is something that moves you on to do something. What was the motive that moved you to make the disclosure? A.—I have already told you how the mayor met me when I was with the city solicitor, when "Mac" told me that he would open up if I didn't.

Q.—Then it was just a little helpful information for the benefit of the mayor? You never approached Mr. McDiarmid improperly, nor Mr. Fullerton? A.—No, sir.

Q.—And now about your visits to Mr. Elliot. Did you not say to him that unless certain things were done you would go and see the mayor? A.—Yes.

Q.—And what were these certain things which you wanted done? A.—I told him I was going to see the mayor, but I didn't mention any certain things. But if you want to know all about it go and ask Elliot. I'll take his word for it.

Q.—What did you tell Elliot? A.—I told him that I thought they were a crooked bunch, and that they kept their money locked up.

Q.—Ah, I see, if the money had not been locked up they would have been all right. A.—Oh, no.

Q.—What else did you tell him? A.—I can't remember, but Elliot told me that he had earned my money. In fact he offered me $2,000 at that time.

Q.—Why didn't you take it? A.—There was something tacked on to it. They were trying to bring in my brother.

Q.—After answering a few more questions put by the mayor and Ald. Langley witness was allowed to go.

Mr. Keiser as a Witness. Mr. Keiser then took the stand. He declared at the outset that he knew more about the obtaining of the contract than any other man connected with the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company. He explained that his functions consisted of advance work in connection with the materials to be used on the contract.

He explained the capacity of A. J. Hill, which he said was that of estimating. He also stated that the American company was subsidiary to the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company despite the fact that the paying headquarters are located in Chicago. He stated that A. J. Hill was only an employee of the company. He did not have any shares, and he did not know how many J. F. Hill held. The head office of the Canadian company is located in Toronto.

Most of the construction accounts he could not say all went to the Chicago office. He offered the freedom of the company's books to verify any statement he might make either in connection with the cost of materials or the expenses.

On being asked if his duties compelled him to approach aldermen and city officials he replied in the affirmative, saying that he had met many of them since the work was started and had received more or less criticism from some and more or less praise from others. He never met an alderman before the contract was awarded.

Mayor Morley insinuated that he might have met a stray alderman while moving round the city hall but Mr. Weiser held him to his point. Witness stated that he knew O'Brien and was introduced to Wilson through him.

Mayor Morley—Who were you introduced to first? A.—Goldie Wilson. Witness went on to explain his connection with Goldie Wilson and the negotiations for the purchase of sand from Sidney Island.

Goldie Wilson said he would like to do something for us if we would give him a job. He said his brother was a "bad one" and wanted to have him settled down.

On being questioned as to his alleged misrepresentations in regard to the cost of pea gravel which he induced the council to substitute for crushed rock in the bid, Mr. Keiser declared emphatically that it was a lie and that the books of the company would show that he was right. Wilson had alleged that the company was paying 75 cents for pea gravel and that Mr. Keiser had told them it cost 95 cents. Mr. Keiser rose from his seat and declared that the allegation was false.

I can show you from our books that I am right. I can show you that it costs even more," he said. His determined stand induced counsel to change the subject.

Q.—Who, else did Goldie Wilson introduce you to? A.—I didn't communicate with him after the sand proposition fell through. He was no use to us.

Q.—Do you swear on oath that you did not meet any of the aldermen before the contract was let? A.—I do.

In regard to the McHugh allegation witness said he knew that Fitzgerald was working in the engineer's office as a salaried man and that his figures were checked by several others who were present also. He met McHugh with a number of other contractors and remembered him calling himself a fool for allowing his bid to go up without being signed. So far as the curb and gutter part of the contract being sublet was concerned all he had to say was that C. M. Payne, who did the work for them, did all similar work for them and they did not regard it as an infringement of the contract. Of course in the strict sense of the terms it was sublet. In regard to the team he could not say anything, as he was not in possession of the facts, but he again offered the company's books for inspection to see if such an item of expenditure figured therein. And in regard to the allegation of alien labor witness said that there were only four men that he knew of who were in the permanent employ of the company whose expenses were paid from place to place. That is, of the men who were working in Victoria. Any others who had worked with them on the other side came over on their own initiative and at their own expense.

At the conclusion of Mr. Keiser's evidence Mr. Maclean pointed out that there was now a clear-cut issue between Mr. Keiser and Mr. Wilson in regard to the cost of the pea gravel and he suggested that the books of the company be consulted to settle the matter.

Mr. Morley—We will conduct this investigation in our own way. Mr. Maclean—Precisely. But if it is the truth you are after you will adopt my suggestion and examine the books. Mr. McDiarmid was anxious to give evidence, but as it was five o'clock it was decided to adjourn the inquiry till Monday afternoon.

Albanians May Fight. Chicago, Sept. 30.—Charles R. Crane, who recently returned from a trip of investigation through the Balkans, speaking of the war between Turkey and Italy, said he regarded the Albanian massacres as the key to the entire situation. Crane branded Tourgeot, the Turkish general, sent to suppress the rebellious Albanians, as a monster worthy the bloodiest days of Abdul Hamid, who gave his soldiers orders to shoot no quarter either to men, women or children.

"Austria is a strong power in the Balkans," Mr. Crane said, "as are Italy and Russia. The devastation wrought by the Turks in Albania is shocking. The Albanians will never give up and should receive great assistance to any power against Turkey."

ALLEGED SWINDLER AGAIN IN CUSTODY

Promoter Who Escaped From Hospital is Rearrested in Oregon

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 29. — Dr. John Grant Lyman, society man, arrested early in September charged with fraudulent misuse of the mails in connection with a Panama land deal, was rearrested at Lakeview, Ore., following a sensational escape from an Oakland hospital on the night of September 22.

Arrested in company with Lyman is J. M. Thorne, a nurse in the hospital where Lyman was confined.

When Lyman first escaped it was believed that he had drugged his guard, a deputy sheriff named C. M. Courtwright, and Courtwright asserted that he was taken ill after dining with Lyman. Later, however, Courtwright confessed that he had accompanied Lyman and Thorne on a joy ride in Oakland and that Lyman and the nurse had escaped him. Marshal Elliott soon obtained evidence that Lyman was travelling northward in an automobile, and several deputy marshals were posted along the border between California and Oregon.

Lyman was arrested first September 28, and he made a break for liberty a day or so later while he was returning to the Alameda county jail in custody of a deputy marshal after having been in court. In boarding a street car he sprained his ankle badly and was taken to a hospital, from whence he escaped the second time.

FLIGHT OF REYES

Former Mexican Minister Leaves For New York

Mexico City, Mex., Sept. 29. — The flight of General Bernardo Reyes, who was the rival of Francisco I. Madero, Jr., and who sailed from Vera Cruz for Havana and New York, is generally regarded here today as an exhibition of unwarranted fear of personal violence. Little stock is taken in Gen. Reyes' allegations of the existence of a Madero plot to assassinate or imprison him.

In a published interview General Reyes declared he had no knowledge of a plot. Although much speculation as to the possibility of his conspiring at a secret military opposition to Madero is being indulged in, such speculation is not being taken seriously, since it is conceded that Gen. Reyes following has diminished to a point where such a plan would be futile. The departure of Reyes has greatly simplified the task of President De La Barra and others in bringing about a peaceful election.

DESPONDENT MAN ENDS HIS LIFE

Boy Finds Body of Missing Stonemason Hanging From Tree

Vancouver, Sept. 29. — A sad case of what would appear to be suicide was discovered at Collingwood, five miles out of town, Thursday, when a boy named James Macdonald came across the body of a man hanging from a tree in the bush at the corner of Westminster road and Green road. From the appearance of the body it is supposed that it must have been hanging there for two or three days.

The body was identified by Constable Lee of South Vancouver as that of Adam Nestmann, a stonemason, who resided on No. One road, Collingwood East, and had been missing for some days. He leaves a wife and four children.

The man left his home on Monday last, leaving a note to his wife saying that she would find his body in a well near the house. She notified the South Vancouver police and gave them the note. The police have been endeavoring to trace the missing man during the whole of the week. Nestmann, it is said, has been worrying over some real estate transactions, and this, it is thought, unhinged his mind.

AUTO FATALITY

Sir Edmund Lacon Killed When Car Capsizes Near Vernon

Vernon, B. C., Sept. 29. — Sir Edmund Lacon died Thursday as the result of injuries sustained in an auto accident. The car went over a hill two miles from here on the Kelowna road and capsized. He had been in Vernon all day and was returning to his ranch above.

Sir Edmund had left Vernon about 7 o'clock after bringing his mother to Vernon for the train to Vancouver.

Sir Edmund, when found by Mr. Wolsey of Armstrong, told who he was and expired in a few minutes.

EUCARIST CONGRESS

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 29. — With a procession of priests and prelates from almost every city in the country wending its way through the streets of this city, the fifth annual national Eucharistic congress began here. The sermon of Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul featured the opening day. Last night a holy hour was observed throughout the churches of the city.

PREDICTS ANOTHER OUTBREAK IN CHINA

Returned Missionary Says the Building of Railway Will Lead to More Trouble

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 29. — Mrs. F. D. Gamewell, wife of the famous engineer and college professor who planned the defense of Peking during the Boxer rebellion, looks for another outbreak in the Szechuan district in China, even more violent than the one which recently sent gunboats up the Yangtze river to protect lives. Mrs. Gamewell, who is a missionary and has lived in China 39 years, arrived from China Thursday. She said:

"The real cause of the Szechuan disturbances is the railroad which is now being constructed between I-Chang and Cheng Tu, the capital city and commercial centre of Szechuan. I-Chang is 400 miles up the Yangtze and beyond this point there is practically no trade except by a dangerous water route. One-half of the vessels which take freight up the Yangtze beyond this point are wrecked. Where water transportation ends, freight must be moved on the backs of coolies. The coolies realize that the railroad will take away their only means of support and they are responsible for the uprising. There is one thing which will aggravate the situation and which is not generally known. The Chinese who have been building this 1000-mile railroad are doing it with money borrowed from British and German financiers who disgusted with the slow progress of the work have decided to take it over themselves. 'The coolies hated the idea of the Chinese building the railroad but the thought of the detested Europeans constructing it will, it is feared, drive the Chinese to further outrage.'

GREAT LONDON HORSE SHOW

The International Horse Show held this year in London was perhaps the greatest horse show ever held. The London International is, no doubt, the greatest horse show in the world, and this being the coronation year, and the show coming in the coronation week, great efforts were made that it should surpass previous shows. A larger number of horses were entered, prizes more numerous and of greater value were offered, and it was expected that the attendance would be larger and more brilliant than ever before, which has indeed proved to be the case. The International show is, as every one knows, an indoor show held at Olympia, Kensington.

The arrangement of the building is very sensible. At one end of it a large space had been set apart for the stables. These were prettily decorated with festoons of flowers. On three sides of the building between the main hall and the outer walls, there is a broad passage, with refreshment rooms, shops, etc. Nothing could be prettier than the decoration of the main hall. On the walls there was a representation of a Tudor village, with such houses as the reader may have seen at

ROUTINE MATTERS BEFORE COUNCIL

Expenditure on Charity—Sooke Lake Expropriations—Oak Bay Makes Move

The city comptroller last night submitted a report to the city council showing that the charitable expenditure of the city for the year 1911 has amounted to $31,350, made up as follows: Royal Jubilee hospital, $10,000; Home for the Aged and Infirm, $8,000; Children's Aid Society, $4,500; Home for Aged and Infirm Women, $2,500; charitable aid fund, $2,500; Anti-Tuberculosis Society, $2,500, and various other small amounts, none exceeding $500.

The report was handed in as a result of the recent resolution presented to the council by the mayor which, if passed, would provide for a maintenance fund for indigent widows and women having children to support.

No appeal will be taken against the award recently made in connection with the expropriation value of 25 acres of land, being lot 434, Malahat district, which the city proposed to take in connection with the Sooke water supply plans. The decision is reached owing to the city finding there is no necessity to take its highest bid as was at first thought necessary.

R. Penborton, acting for the owner, Mr. Davie; Mr. Coles, acting for the city, with Judge Lampman as referee, fixed the value at $13,500. Mr. Davie claimed $3,500, and the city offered $1,000. The matter will stand until the city officials decide just how much of the owner's land will be required. In order to make a quick transfer Mr. Davie has offered to relinquish his legal costs which the city would have to pay if the award were accepted.

Tenders for the work of demolishing old buildings condemned by the city building inspector are to be called at once. The action is the result of the refusal of the Supreme Court to grant the injunction against the city asked by L. J. Quaglini. The cost of the removal of the condemned buildings will be charged against the owners.

The Oak Bay council has applied to the provincial government to bring sections 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

MANY LINERS DUE AT WHARVES NEXT WEEK

Nine Steamships Arriving and Departing—Wednesday—Will See Six Vessels Tied Up

Judging from the number of deep-sea vessels scheduled to sail and arrive before next Saturday, the coming week will be one of the busiest in shipping circles during the past six months. Eight big steamships bound to and from different parts of the globe will tie up at the Outer Docks to load and unload freight and embark and disembark passengers. The busiest day of the week will be Wednesday when four outward bound liners and two inbound steamships will tie up at the docks.

To-morrow will most likely witness the arrival of the Canadian-Australian liner—Lonsdale, Capt. Bates, from Salina Cruz and other Mexican ports, with a full cargo of freight from Europe brought via the Tehuantepec railway. The vessel has not yet been reported but the local agents are expecting her in some time to-morrow morning. On Monday and Tuesday the docks will be void of steamships unless some of the vessels due to arrive on Wednesday manage to crowd on more steam and make port a day ahead of time.

There will be an animated scene at the wharves on Wednesday, however, for the Canadian-Australian liner Makura, Capt. Gibb, will depart for the Antipodes; the Blue Funnel steamship Onia, Capt. Lycott, for Liverpool via the Orient; the R. M. S. Empress of India, Capt. Beetham, for Yokohama, and Hongkong, and the Pacific steamship Umaitilla, Capt. Harris, for San Francisco, while the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner, Seattle Maru, will arrive early in the morning from Oriental ports, and the West-ship Sverdrup later in the day from the same places.

The City of Puebla, Capt. Hannah, will arrive from San Francisco on Thursday night and it is possible that the R. M. S. Empress of Japan, Capt. Robinson, will reach the Outer Wharves before the week closes. If she manages to make port next Saturday the week will go on record as the best this port has ever experienced.

With this amount of tonnage arriving at Victoria inside of a week it can easily be seen that with the opening of the Panama Canal the total will be greatly augmented. The present docking facilities of the Port of Victoria can only accommodate the amount of shipping coming this way at present and it is therefore of the most vital importance that something should be done immediately for the improving and enlarging of the docking space.

Empress Theatre.
By telegraph yesterday afternoon Manager Wisner, of the Empress theatre, was made acquainted with the fact that the special engagement of Nellie Brown, one of the best of vaudeville singers, together with the Amsterdam quartette, which has won fame in a few short weeks, has been booked for Victoria next week at the Empress.

This act ranks as a star act in any vaudeville company in America; is a delightful singing fantasia sung by four cultured voices and applauded throughout the circuit during the present tour. The act is entitled "The Love" and the special scenery brought along with the quartette is the headliner and the biggest singing bit for several weeks. It reports from other cities are to be believed.

Straight and crooked magic is something that is not stereotyped when shown by Harry Bouton and his own company. He has broken away from conventional lines, inventing new tricks and new ways to do old ones. It is not so much the trick as the way it is done, and his habit of attracting attention by telling jokes at the critical moment gives his act a laughable value not to be lost sight of.

Hoey and Mozar have been around before, and are coming back Monday. All who remember them will be ready to give this talented duo of singers and comedians a welcome again. This visit they bring topical and catchy songs.

The value of a dollar is known to everyone, but Melville W. Brown has undertaken to put the commonplace into a playlet of one act, and J. Frank Burke and his company will produce it here during each Empress week next week. It is a play of the west, but has escaped the hoof of the west-greatest of all La Salle Opera House successes, which has a record of more than three hundred performances in Chicago, will be presented in every section of the country, from coast to coast and from the cities of the Great Lake region to the localities along the Gulf of Mexico.

To cover so much ground in so comparatively short a time, it is necessary to employ a special train during most of the season, a huge expenditure when one considers that this train is composed of two baggage cars with scenery and properties, two sleepers, a day coach and a dining car. "The Sweetest Girl in Paris," however, faces only capacity audiences in every place it is shown, so that the expenditure is more than worth while, especially as Harry Askin desires that "Trixie Friganza" and "The Sweetest Girl in Paris" shall have visited every theatrical centre of any note in the country before her appearance again at the La Salle Opera House in a new vehicle next season.

Miss Friganza has not toured the country since her appearances in George Cohan's "The American Idea," as all last season she was affording delight to audiences in the Windy City. "The Sweetest Girl in Paris" contains several sure-fire "Friganza song-hits" which the leading comedienne of the American stage renders in her own inimitable and infectiously bubbling manner. They include "Don't Forget The Number," which, by the way, is one of the most popular songs Miss Friganza has ever had; "That's The Way That Imitations Look to Me," and "Go, Ain't It A Shame to Be Fat."

"The Travelling Salesman."

Few plays of recent years have been received with more favor by the theatregoers of America than "The Travelling Salesman," a comedy of American life and character written by nearly the effect of Imperial ukase—prohibits the departure from Russia of any more of the dancers from the Imperial theatres of Moscow and St. Petersburg. The first news of this order to reach this country came in the form of a letter received by Joseph Mandelkern, a Russian who assisted Gertrude Hoffmann and Morris Gest in the assembly of the Russian dancers in "La Saison des Ballets Russes."

This letter was written by Theodor Lopoukova, a brother of Mile. Lydia

"Baby Mine."

In presenting the Margaret Mayo comedy, "Baby Mine," at the Victoria Theatre on Friday, Oct. 6, Manager Wm. A. Brady, under whose direction it is produced, calls attention to the fact that it not only ran for an entire ceived their husbands by painting off infants from founding assumptions as their own offspring, and that the husband would go through life proudly innocent of the deception.

Why shouldn't "Baby Mine" be a big success, a pronounced success, with such genuine material as an utter laugh and fun maker? There is everything to the play to warrant the general opinion that it is the greatest ever, and this is "going some," when we recall "Charley's Aunt" and "Too

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Appendicitis
Newburgh, Ont., Feb. 12th, 1910.
"Just about a year ago, our daughter Ella (fourteen years) was taken with terrible pains in the right side. We at once put her under the care of a first-class doctor, who pronounced it a case of Appendicitis and advised an operation. We took her to a hospital in Kingston where she was again immediately examined by an eminent specialist. He said she had Appendicitis and must be operated on at once, if we wanted to save her life.

"Luckily for us and for her, an uncle came in with some 'Fruit-a-tives' and insisted on Ella taking them. Good results were apparent almost from the first dose, and the treatment cured her.

Lopoukova, one of the leading dancers in the company. The letter states that the ranks of the Imperial artists have been so depleted that Chief Director Krupensky is at his wit's end to provide a suitable ballet to be given before the Car at Krasnoe Selo, the famous Russian village near St. Petersburg where Russia's ruler spends the summer. This special ballet before the Car is a yearly event, to the success of which every effort is bent by those in charge of the Imperial ballet, which is a national institution, the expenses here met by the court.

The communication goes on to say that in view of the meagerness of the ballet director, an order has been issued by a court minister that no more leaves of absence be granted to the Imperial dancers who were trained at government expense. Failure to return at the expiration of the present leaves of absence will result in the annulling of the pensions granted these dancers when they attain the age of thirty-one. Lopoukova begs Mandelkern to entreat his sister to return to Russia when her leave of absence expires and asks that the other artists affected by the order be made conversant with its stringent meaning.

Among the artists in Gertrude Hoffmann's organization whom the order affects are: Maria Baldina, Ballerina, Imperial theatre, Moscow; Alexis Bulakow, premier mime, Imperial theatre, St. Petersburg; Theodore Kostoff, premier danseur, Imperial theatre, Moscow; Nicholas Volinine, premier danseur, Imperial theatre, Moscow; Nicolas Solanjow, premier mime, Imperial theatre, St. Petersburg; and Jan Zelawsky, of the Imperial theatre, Moscow. Mile. Lydia Lopoukova, from the Imperial theatre, St. Petersburg.

As a special added feature during the engagement of Gertrude Hoffmann's "Saison des Ballets Russes" at the Victoria theatre on Thursday, Oct. 5, Miss Hoffman has promised to introduce her sensational new Revue, in this Revue Miss Hoffman will impersonate Edith Barrymore, George M. Cohan, Eddie Foy, Eva Tanguay, Anna Held, Harry Lauder, Ruth St. Denis, Isadora Duncan, Eddie Leonard, and also does an impersonation of Annette Kellerman in her diving scenes. For this impersonation alone a huge tank is to praise this worthy laugh-provoking American play.

The plot of "Baby Mine" was suggested to Miss Mayo through the reading of an article in a Chicago newspaper to the effect that married women of that town frequently de-

Ask the opinion of anyone who has seen this side-splitting comedy and who will see it again, and then again, if possible.—Fun! Mirth! There is no end of it. It is a continuous riot and scream, and even the young and unmarried people quickly recognize the possibilities and realism of every situation. It is really education and an intuition of what the young wife experiences in married life, before and after joyous motherhood.

Yes, it brings back the limit of happy moments of the married man, when he is informed that he has become a father, and is suddenly awakened to new responsibilities that are his, and which he cheerfully assumes. "Baby Mine" strikes most of us deeply and the fun, laughter and intense delight of the audience, as the play goes on, best tells the tale of the immense success that will follow "Baby Mine" the world over.

The company which will appear here will include Marjorie Cortland, Clinton Preston, Jane Carlsen, and others.

GOLD PLATE.

Silver-gilt plate is often spoken of as gold plate. One hears of the gold service at Windsor Castle, of the gold plate owned by sovereigns of Europe, and by other persons abroad. As a matter of fact, these so-called gold services are silver-gilt, and only a few pieces of the pure gold are owned by the English crown. It may interest readers to learn how this fire, mercurial, or water gilding, for it is known by all these three names, is done. Pure gold and mercury are mixed into a paste. The silver articles to be gilded, having been chemically cleaned, is rubbed all over with this paste, which has been placed in a silk bag, just as the blue used in washing is put in a bag. When the piece of plate has been rubbed over, it is perfectly white. It is then put into an oven, and generally the mercury goes off in fumes, leaving on the article a deposit of pure gold, which has practically become one with the piece of silver, and will last for centuries.

pony. Also it is that rare thing, a woman's sketch.

Those who like the merry joker and the graceful dancer will find delight in watching the performance of Freeman and Dunham, who are confidently predicted to be very popular for a week in Victoria. The Empressose is the other attraction for the week.

Princess Theatre.

"The Holy City" will be presented to the patrons of this house during the coming week. It will be given with appropriate scenery and costumes. Amongst the scenes given will be Herod's palace, a view of Jerusalem, and others.

It is a large undertaking for a stock company to produce such a play with only a week's rehearsal, but the 541-ians company is fully equal to all the requirements. The cast is as follows:

Mary Macdalen, Miss Finkle, Maudie Salome, Miss Margaret Doyle, Herodias, Miss Ora Wolf, Elizabeth, Miss Clara Hamner, Marcus, W. S. Van Dyke, John the Baptist, Arthur Cyril Herod, Michael Halloran, Judas Iscariot, George Robinson, Pontius Pilate, George Sweetnam, Simon Peter, Arthur Cyril Roman soldier, Fred Horn.

Special scenery has been painted for this production, and the costumes will prove a revelation in the costuming of a stock production.

"The Sweetest Girl in Paris."

Trixie Friganza and her eighty odd associates in "The Sweetest Girl in Paris," which comes to the Victoria theatre on Monday, are making one of the most extended and comprehensive tours ever undertaken in the history of American theatricals. During the present season of forty weeks the James Forbes, who made a reputation as a dramatist when he produced "The Chorus Lady" and by adding "The Travelling Salesman" to his list of plays, he has materially enhanced his reputation as a writer of things worth while.

The comedy has proved a constant success with Don MacMillan in the role of Bob Blake and all indications point to this as the banner year for this pleasing comedy.

The locale of the play is Grand Crossing, a Middle West village. The story opens on Christmas Day, and in the first act is shown the interior of the railway station, where Bob Blake, the travelling salesman, and Beth Elliott, the pretty ticket agent, meet and are attracted to each other. Beth is the owner of a barren tract of land, apparently worthless—which is to be sold for unpaid taxes. The girl is unaware of the fact that the railroad is about to build a spur line and that the property will be needed for that purpose.

Martin Drury, a capitalist, and Royce, a pretended admirer of Beth, know of the prospective increase of the property and they plot to buy it when it shall be put on sale. Beth tells Blake about her property and that she is unable to save it. Royce joins Blake and three other salesmen in a poker game, and during the game he tells of the scheme to buy in the land, and Blake decides to be the first person on hand in order to buy it in for Beth with the idea of selling it to the railroad at a large advance. His attempt to save her property supplies the necessary dramatic thread of the comedy.

TRAMWAY FRANCHISE AT VANCOUVER

Number of Ratepayers Are in Favor of Municipal Line

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—At a meeting of the Ward Four Ratepayers' Association the following resolution condemning the movement on foot to continue the city's franchise to the B.C.E.R. was passed:

"Whereas, at the present time there is a conference between a committee of the city council and the B.C.E.R. Company with a view to granting an extension of the franchise held by the said company within the city limits to twenty-five years;

"And, whereas, the granting of such an extension would deprive the city from acquiring the line at the expiration of their present franchise; therefore, be it

Resolved by these ratepayers' association that no extension beyond the life of the present franchise be granted, but that the council take such steps as may be necessary with a view to acquiring the plant and equipment of the B.C.E.R. as soon as their present franchise expires."

The motion was moved by D. J. McDonald and seconded by R. H. Gress. It was further decided to send a copy of the resolution to Alderman H. H. Stevens.

Another matter discussed was a proposal to have the city spend $500,000 in park sites, and for general park purposes. Ald. McMaster stated that two park sites had been decided on for Ward Four. He thought that there was no reason why half a million dollars should not be set aside.

The meeting passed a resolution giving its support to Ald. McMaster's proposal to establish a sinking fund for taking over the tram service at the termination of the present franchise.

VANCOUVER MAYORALTY.

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—With the announcement today that James Finlay, president of the Vancouver Conservative Association and civic license commissioner, will run for mayor in January, five possible candidates for the honor have been suggested.

Representative of Ward One and acting mayor in the absence of the mayor, stated that it was his intention, in response to the invitation of many friends, to offer himself as a candidate. Later it was asserted that the present mayor would run again next year.

While Ald. McMaster of Ward Six has also been requested to enter the field, it is understood further that the supporters of Alexander Morrison, majority candidate for 1911, are urging him to try again.

ORCHESTRAL SOCIETY.

Kamloops, Sept. 29.—The Kamloops Orchestral Society, a new musical organization formed, has started out with an initial membership of 17, among which are the following instruments: Piano, violin, cello, clarinet, flute, French horn, cornets, and slide trombone. The following officers were elected: President, W. Hilbert; vice-president, Dr. Ohner; secretary and treasurer, R. Marcus; and Messrs. Noble, Stewart and Biggs and Messrs. Lacy and Munn on the committee.

ENGINEERS INVESTIGATE.

Cranbrook, Sept. 29.—The engineers appointed by the commission on conservation of the water power resources of the Dominion, who have been in Cranbrook for a few days, have been investigating the districts south of the railway belt, and expect to be in the vicinity of Cranbrook for some little time. They will keep working until prevented by weather conditions. The party is in charge of A. V. V. White of Toronto, and with him are G. H. Ferguson and D. C. Jennings.

MINER KILLED.

Cumberland, Sept. 29.—Gusepp Luigi was killed in No. 7 mine a few days ago by a fall of rock. The man was engaged timbering when the rock fell on him, breaking his neck. Coroner Abrams empaneled a jury and after viewing the body an inquest was held as to how deceased came to his death. The jury after hearing the evidence returned a verdict of accidental death.

BANKING SYSTEM FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Will Be Inaugurated by South Vancouver Board of Trustees

South Vancouver, Sept. 29.—The installation of a system whereby the small savings of pupils may be banked in the same manner as the larger amounts of their parents was the subject of a lengthy debate at the meeting of the South Vancouver school board.

The proposed system, which is somewhat of an innovation in British Columbia, has been successfully operated by the educational departments of Ontario and portions of Quebec.

When brought before the trustees at a recent meeting, the matter was referred to Mr. Graham, the newly appointed supervisor of municipal schools, his instructions being to go into the matter thoroughly with the teachers, banks and parents and to suggest a system whereby the moneys might be handled without in any way interfering with the duties of teacher or pupil.

Mr. Graham's report was to the effect that the teachers had for the most part expressed interest in the proposal. The system he recommended was that the teacher of every department should keep accounts, accept cash deposits and issue withdrawal slips whenever necessary for their pupils, or briefly, that the deposits should be made weekly, collectively, and that the withdrawals be made at the desire of the pupil individually.

The project has everywhere met with such approval there seems to be absolutely no doubt now that it will be carried out, and Mr. Graham expects to make the final arrangements for its operation this week.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—At the inquest into the death of Gilbert Georgeson, the jury returned a verdict that the deceased died at the General Hospital on September 26 through an accident caused by a machine he was driving striking a log, and that while there was nothing in the evidence to show in what manner it was done, the death was purely accidental. Georgeson was an engineer employed by E. P. Hogan, and was working at Hogan's camp, Macdonald Creek, Howe Sound, when the accident occurred. From the evidence it appears that the deceased was engaged in moving a donkey engine when in some manner a log flew up and hit him on the head, fracturing the skull. Mr. Hogan immediately procured medical assistance, and although the doctor pronounced the case to be hopeless, chartered a tug and brought the injured man directly to the city, where he was taken to the General Hospital. The deceased only survived a few hours.

HEAVY DAMAGES.

Vancouver, Sept. 29.—A verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for $9,000 was returned by a Supreme Court jury in the action brought by Peter Collins against the Britannia Mining & Smelting Company, Ltd. The suit was for damages for personal injuries which Mr. Collins received while working in a shaft in the company's metalliferous mines near Vancouver, and which comprised the total loss of his eyesight and the crippling of his right hand, rendering him unfit for further work. Mr. Justice Morrison charged the jury very impartially, and asked them to remember that several of the witnesses were unaccompanied to court and were not under strictly normal conditions when giving evidence. The jury was out about an hour.

FINED AGAIN FOR AN INFRACTION OF LAW

Herbert Cuthbert, Defiant of Statutes, Once More Haled Into Police Court

Herbert Cuthbert, a local real estate agent, who has been frequently fined for infractions of the automobile regulations, appeared in the police court this morning and was fined $20 for having disobeyed the law again. The offence for which he was fined this morning was committed about 11 o'clock yesterday morning, when the accused drove his automobile round the corner of Port and Government streets, striking the northeast corner instead of going round the semi-intersection of the roads. The information was sworn to by Superintendent Gibson, of the B. C. Electric Company, and supported by a car conductor and Constable Allison, who was on point duty at the time. The accused asked if he had the right to appeal and was told he had, but being one of the most incorrigible automobile law breakers in Victoria, he was fined.

A disturbance which occurred in the possession of the Edison Tanning Company on Government street one day this week was ventilated in the police court this morning, when the manager of the office, Mervin G. Bowen, was found guilty of assaulting Ralph H. Rush, one of his salesmen, and was fined $5. The assault arose from a disputed commission account and Bowen was in the act of putting the salesman out of the office. The magistrate held that unnecessary force was used.

Daniel Timmins, who said he had not seen any bags of coal on any place near the street, but saw only a policeman smoking a cigarette and some handcuffs, did not appear at all disappointed or distressed when Magistrate Jay decided that he should stay for one month in jail. Timmins appeared in the dock because of a bag of coal the policeman saw him take when it was dark and carry away to his cabin. David Napier pleaded very earnestly to be allowed a chance to get to Vancouver, where things are made very much easier for vagrants by the compassionate police of that city. He claimed that he was drunk but never appeared on Monday morning his name will be called, and if he answers to it he will go to jail. He promised not to be present and to go to Vancouver to-day.

Thomas Coffey, Senator, Catholic Record, London, Ontario. Dr. McTaggart's vegetable remedies for the liquor and tobacco habits are healthful, safe, inexpensive home treatments. No hypodermic injections, no publicity, no loss of time from business, and a certain cure. Consultation or correspondence invited.

CREDIT REFUSED TO SCHOOL TRUSTEES

Nelson Coal Dealers Will Not Supply Fuel—Schools to Be Closed

Nelson, B. C., Sept. 29.—Brought to a climax by the sudden spell of cold weather and by the refusal of the coal dealers to supply fuel for schools unless cash is paid in advance, the school board finds that the funds are exhausted. Both the public and high schools must close at the end of next week unless the dispute with the city council over the annual grant is patched up. This was the announcement made by Dr. E. C. Arthur, secretary, at a hurriedly-called special meeting of the board last night.

The refusal of the coal merchants to allow the board credit has precipitated the closing of the schools. It was believed, proposed to keep open until the end of next month on credit basis with the idea that the merchants would be forced to sue for payment and thus the meaning of the Provincial School Act which is the basis of controversy, would have been decided in the courts. Feeling in the city this morning runs high over the question. Both council and school board have supporters, though the majority of the property owners, already suffering from high taxation for school purposes, are backing the council in their refusal to grant the full sum asked for by the trustees in their estimates. That the school board will resign and be candidates for re-election with the financial question as the issue, is not considered unlikely.

SIR W. WHYTE RETIRES

Winnipeg, Sept. 29.—Sir Wm Whyte retired last night as vice-president of the Canadian Pacific railway in Winnipeg, with jurisdiction over all western lines, and the curtain rings down on one of the most progressive railway men in America. He leaves Sunday to attend a meeting of the board of directors in Montreal, to which he was recently appointed.

There is much speculation as to his successor. It was stated that at the board meeting four vice-presidents will be named: G. W. Bosworth, fourth vice-president of Montreal, will be promoted to Winnipeg as chief executive in the west; G. J. Berry, general manager at Winnipeg; W. R. M. Jones, freight traffic manager, and C. E. Fisher, passenger traffic manager, both of Montreal, and R. Marpole, of Vancouver, will be the four vice-presidents.

METHODIST CLERGYMEN

Prominent Divines Arrive At Montreal on Way to Conference at Toronto. Montreal, Sept. 29.—Among the passengers who landed from the Empress of Britain yesterday afternoon was a group of prominent Methodist clergymen who are coming to the Methodist Ecumenical conference which is to be held in Toronto next week. Among them are Rev. T. E. Westerdale of Melbourne, England; Dr. Fitcham, of Melbourne, Australia; Rev. H. Hovert, of Paris, France, and Sir George Smith, who is accompanied by Lady Smith. Rev. Mr. Westerdale is known in England as one of the most prominent clergymen in the Methodist connection.

In association with Sir R. W. Perks he was one of the main promoters of the famous million guinea fund for the building of the great Methodist church in Westminster. Dr. Fitcham occupies the position of head of the Methodist Church in Australasia and has achieved renown as an educationalist and writer. Sir George Smith, who lives in the west of England, is one of the prominent hymens in the church.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Campbelltown, N. B., Sept. 29.—Dr. W. W. Doherty has been committed for trial on a charge of causing the death of Daniel Bruce. Bruce's death was the result of an election argument in the heat of which Dr. Doherty lunged at him with an umbrella. The steel point entered Bruce's eye, penetrating the brain and ultimately resulting fatally.

KILLED BY AUTO

Driver of Car Which Ran Down Man Is Captured After Chase. Eugene, Ore., Sept. 29.—A man who first gave his name as F. Jensen, but later said it was Paul Thomson, is under arrest here in connection with the death of Peter Hebert, who was killed yesterday by an automobile, said to have been driven by Thomson. The car in which Thomson was apprehended after a pursuit by the city marshal of Cottage Grove, 3 miles south of that place, bears the same license tag as was on a car stolen from a physician in Portland, Ore., Sept. 25.

After Thomson was first brought back here he declared his name to be F. Jensen, and said he was travelling salesman for a Portland implement concern. When telephone communication with Salem developed that no license had been issued to a man of that name, Thomson admitted that his name was Thomson. He is being held here pending the filing of a formal complaint to-day charging involuntary manslaughter.

NEW BRITISH TORPEDO

Said to Be Effective at Range of 10,000 Yards. Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—The British navy is equipped with a torpedo said to be effective at 10,000 yards or nearly three times the range of the most powerful projectile now used in the United States navy. This information is brought back to Washington by an American naval expert, who recently discussed developments in gunnery, torpedo craft and the relative method of target practice in the British and American navies.

C., more particularly described as follows:

AND WHEREAS the total amount required to be raised annually by rate for paying the debt intended to be hereby created, and the interest thereon is the sum of $2,744.61.

AND WHEREAS the amount of the whole rateable land improvements on real property of the Corporation at the District of Oak Bay according to the last Revised Assessment Roll of the Municipality, namely, the Roll for the year 1911, is $183,423.

AND WHEREAS for paying the interest and creating an equal yearly sinking fund for paying the principal of said debt intended to be hereby created, an annual special rate of 1-1/2 mills on the dollar will be required.

AND WHEREAS this By-law shall not be altered or repealed without the consent of a majority of the Council.

BE IT THEREFORE ENACTED by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the District of Oak Bay, as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Reeve of the Corporation of the District of Oak Bay to borrow upon the credit of the Corporation by way of the Debitures of the Corporation, the sum of $20,000, in such manner and on such terms as he may see fit.

2. The said Debitures shall bear date the 31st day of October, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, and shall be made payable in ten years from the said date at such place either in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain or the United States of America, as may be designated by the said Reeve, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest and the signatures to the interest coupons may be either written, stamped, printed, lithographed or engraved.

3. The said Debitures shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum from the date of their issue, which interest shall be payable half yearly, at such place either in the Dominion of Canada, Great Britain, or the United States of America as may be expressed in the Debitures or Coupons.

4. It shall be lawful for the Reeve of the said Corporation to dispose of the said Debitures at a rate below par and to provide the cash to pay out of the sum raised by the sale of the said Debitures, and all expenses connected with the preparation and engraving or lithographing of the said Debitures and coupons, or any discount or commission or other charges incidental to the sale of the said Debitures.

5. For the purpose of raising annually the required sum for the interest on the said Debitures, there shall be raised and levied in each year, a rate on the property of the District of Oak Bay, in the amount of the sum of $1,000, and for the purpose of creating the sinking fund aforesaid, the maximum amount of the said rate shall be raised annually the sum of $1,744.61.

6. For the purpose of the payment of the said sums in the next preceding paragraph mentioned, there shall be raised and levied in each year, a rate on the property on the dollar on all the rateable land, improvements and real property in the Municipality of the District of Oak Bay during the continuance of the said Debitures or any of them.

7. This By-law shall be deemed to have effect from the date of its passing, and shall take effect on the 1st day of October, 1911.

8. This By-law may be cited as the "School Loan By-law No. 2".

Passed by the Municipal Council on the 26th day of October, 1911.

SUPERSTITIONS OF FRENCH PEASANTS

Ghost of Marie Antoinette Walks in Versailles Presaging Disaster

The French are a brilliant, gifted and imaginative race and this may not account for the fact that many have received with something like a shock the news from Versailles that the ghost of Marie Antoinette again walks the Trianon and in the Forest of Versailles.

This is a different from any other ghost story in the world, by reason of the romantic personality of the ghost, the delicious world-famed spot—the haunts, and the character and number of those who have seen the phenomena—kings, statesmen, foreign tourists, gardeners, children and millionaires, Parisian bourgeois and tough Paris apaches.

The manifestation of the ghost is held to presage some great national change or disaster. The more memorable past visitations being just before the fall of the great Napoleon in 1815, the final overthrow of the Bourbons in 1830, the abdication of Louis Philippe in 1848, and the terrible events of 1870, and the irrevocable ruin of the third Napoleon. The men are now given a mysterious association with probable war with Germany.

All the phenomena surrounding the manifestation are unique. All Versailles knows what happens when the Queen walks the park around the Trianon itself in some way assumes a ghostly appearance. The historic pleasure ground melts back and seems to assume the spirit of the years preceding 1793, when the Queen went to the guillotine.

Old inhabitants of Versailles town stroll in the shade—and suddenly discover plain everyday life to have vanished, while they wander in a dreamy world that frightens while it charms them.

In 1888 Frenchmen laughed at these portents. Those who listened and believed went to war with Prussia discouraged in advance.

To-day Paris is stirred by the mystery of the Trianon chiefly because two English ladies wrote down minutely what they saw and related it.

Communicated by Theodore de Wyzewa by Andrew Lang, who knows the ladies, a hundred dream-like details are, for the first time, proved to conform to the Trianon of October 5, 1788, "all the more marvelous because impossible and unaccountable in two senses."

The English ladies, How could they imagine obscure historic facts, like a cart obstructing the path—a cart which actually did stand there during the whole reign of Louis XVI, and passed vaguely for having diverted the pastoral soul of the unfortunate monarch?

Many an old Versailles family has its story of happenings to-day as extraordinary as those of the Misses Morrison and Diamond on that August afternoon, when, ignorant of French history and their surroundings, they sought the Little Trianon by way of a plan in their guide book. Passing a large pond, they turned to the right, perceived an edifice which they supposed to be the Grand Trianon, and continued. From this moment their adventures began.

"Chatting of things and friends at home we followed the path, but the presence of certain obstructions on the edge of the path forced us to turn to the right," says Miss Morrison. "Two men stood in the middle of three diverging paths, and we asked them our way. They seemed to be imposing functionaries, wearing long gray-green mantles, with little tricorn hats. In reply they told us to go straight ahead. We continued rapidly, chatting again, but from that instant an extraordinary depression came over me.

"It became painful when we arrived at a path at right angles. Before us was a wood in which rose a light, round garden kiosk, and near it a man in a long mantle and broad-brimmed hat was seated; but I should add that already everything around us had taken in my eyes a singular appearance.

"The trees around the kiosk, in particular, seemed to be without relief or life. There was no effect of light and shade, not a breath of air in the leaves, and they looked that, like a wood embowered in tannery. The color of the seated man was dark and his expression repugnant. I was glad to hear a rapid step behind us, but when I turned there was nobody.

"At that moment another man seemed to come out of a stone wall at the junction of the roads. He was evidently a gentleman. A dark mantle covered him like a shawl thrown over one shoulder, and he cried: 'Madame, ladies, his arms and saying things we could not understand. I distinguished only the word 'house.' Looking back from the direction he indicated, we saw that he had disappeared.

"In silence we passed over a little rustic bridge across a tiny ravine; quills near us the waters of a little cascade fell on a green lawn where ferns grew among stones. Beyond, we followed a narrow path bordered by rows of trees, which prevented us seeing the 'house' until we were close; and beside it, in the grass, a lady was seated, reading.

"She lifted her head to look at us. Her face was no longer young, and though not unpleasing, did not attract me. She wore a large white hat on a head of thick blonde hair, puffed around the forehead. Her light summer gown was covered over the shoulders by a curious fichu. I supposed her to be a foreign tourist; but the singularity of her dress astonished me, though I had for a long time been under the impression of living as in a dream."

The two English ladies finally got to the Little Trianon, which they visited in company with a lower middle-class Parisian wedding party. After their visit they went back to an open cab to the Hotel Reservoirs and returned to Paris and England.

Others, including the daughter of an American millionaire, claim to have seen these "strange sights, particularly emphasizing the apparition of a tramp lady, which would appear and disappear, but who seemed so real that the children would go up to her."

During the last hours of Marie Antoinette on earth she looked more like a tramp lady than a queen. Only the faith and courage of a great heart remained. Passing in the cart she was sketched by the painter David from a second-story window where he stood. All the windows were packed with weeping Parisians, and this sketch, terrible in its fidelity, without glorifying idealism, shows Marie Antoinette in rough mob cap and disheveled gown, indistinguishable from the commonest woman of the people.

A tramp lady? No, madame, young queen in white Lehigh hat and flay-summer toilet? Or queen no longer young, but dignified, pensively strolling?—

DEATH BY ELECTRICITY

Effect of Fatal Shock on Human Organisms

From the studies of electric shock that have been made, Drs. Kride and Stanton conclude that death usually results either from contraction of the fibrils, or muscular fibres, of the heart, or from paralysis of the respiratory organs. While there is no known remedy for the derangement of the heart muscles, artificial respiration may sometimes overcome the respiratory paralysis. The effects of direct and alternating currents vary with the current strength, the time of contact, and the pass-through the body; and with alternating currents low frequency is usually more dangerous than high frequency. The lower animals are generally more susceptible to electric shock than man, dogs being often killed by a direct current of seventy volts. In the average man such a current of 100 volts is scarcely noticed, 200 to 400 volts gives rise to muscular cramps, and 500 volts suddenly stops respiration. The alternating current of low pressure often affects the heart. At 600 volts both fibrillary contraction and respiratory paralysis are caused; but at 2,200 to 4,500 volts the effect is usually on the respiratory alone. American electrocution records show that a current of two to seven amperes at 1,500 volts, fifteen to fifty cycles per second, always stops the heart when continued forty-five to fifty seconds, though in a few seconds it fails to kill.

CANADIAN MANUFACTURES

Growth of Establishments and Output Reported. One of the best evidences of Canada's growth is shown by the progress made in connection with her manufacturing establishments. As a matter of fact, Canada has grown in every way during the past quarter of a century. Her population has increased, the products of her farms, forests, mines, etc., have made wonderful advances, her bank clearings have gained, and her shipping has increased. An interesting comparison is shown by the growth in connection with our manufacturing establishments. In the year 1881 there was invested in manufacturing industries $165,302,823. In 1895, when the last manufacturing census was taken, investment had grown to $46,585,000. To-day it is estimated at $1,500,000,000. Thus in the period in which we doubled our population we increased our manufacturing investments by eight-fold.

In 1901 the value of the output of the factories amounted to $39,676,000. This grew to $76,446,000 in 1905, and is estimated at over $1,000,000,000 to-day. In 1905 it had increased to $162,155,000, and to-day it is estimated at $24,000,000.

Taking individual industries into consideration we find that a few of these, such as steel, cotton, woolen and cement, have made wonderful strides in the past few years. About thirty-five years ago our annual production of steel amounted to $1,000,000. Twenty-five years later it was $2,000,000, while this year it is estimated at $70,000,000. In 1905 the production of cement amounted to $2,271,000, of which 50 per cent was Canadian, and 41 per cent imported. In 1910 it increased to $6,414,000, or an increase in five years of about 200 per cent. Of this amount 83 per cent was Canadian made, and only 17 per cent imported. A quarter of a century ago Canada had sixteen spinning-wheel factories; to-day we have woolen mills and textile mills whose output is reckoned in the millions of dollars. In 1880 pulp was manufactured in Canada to the value of $63,302; to-day we have over fifty mills using over

HEAVY DRINKER CURED

Samaria Cured Him and He Helped Others. A man who has been released from the awful cravings of drink, and whose spirit of helpfulness and philanthropy, Reid B. Carter, writes: "The Samaria Remedy Co., Toronto, Ont."

"Will you please send me book on drink, also circulars relating to your valued remedy for the drink habit. I wish to hand these to a friend who is going to run through drink. You will remember that I have taken your remedy, and I find it all your claim for it. I never think of fasting or using strong drink in any way, as all desire for it has left me. I cannot speak too highly of your wonderful remedy. You may use my name in any way you wish in public."

"H. Lilywhite, Bridgeton, Ontario."

Samaria Prescription is tasteless and colorless, and dissolves instantly in tea or coffee, or can be mixed with food. It can be given with or without the patient's knowledge. It removes the craving for drink, builds up the system, restores the nerves. Drink becomes tasteless and even nauseous.

Drink is a disease, not a crime. One drink of whiskey always invites another. The inflamed nerves and stomach create a craving that must either be satisfied by more whiskey or removed by scientific treatment like Samaria Prescription. Samaria Prescription has been in regular and successful use by Physicians and Hospitals for over ten years.

If you know of any family needing Samaria Prescription, tell them about it. If you have a husband, father or friend that is drifting into drink, help him save himself. Write to-day.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria Prescription, with booklet, price, etc., will be sent absolutely free, and prepaid in plain sealed package to anyone asking for it and mentioning this paper. Correspondence sent strictly confidential. Write to-day.

DREDGING FOR TREASURE

Old Frigate's Cargo of Gold Bars Buried in North Sea. In the North Sea, between the islands of Vlieland and Terschelling, an expedition organized by the National Salvage Association is now working to recover a treasure lost with the English frigate Lutina in 1799, while en route from London to Hamburg.

The Lutina set sail from the Thames in October of that year with an enormous amount of gold for the English Garrison on the Dutch Island Texel, and gold and silver bars for Hamburg banking houses, valued in all at $6,032,000, but she was wrecked during a violent storm and only one of the crew was saved.

Repeated attempts have been made to find the precious metal, notably in 1800-1 and in 1859-61, and it is estimated that a little over $500,000 worth has already been recovered.

Early this year the steam dredger Lyons was chartered for a further search. She is fitted with powerful suction pumps, capable of displacing nearly 2,000 tons of sand an hour, and carries a crew of forty-five men as well as ten experienced divers. Already the wreck has been freed from the large sand bank which covered it and is now accessible from all sides. Numerous articles have been brought to the surface, including a large piece of copper marked "W., Oct. 97" (War department 1797), uniform buttons, and gold and copper coins, while the powder and ball magazine near which it is said, the bulk of the treasure was

Hats Practical and Picturesque

White Felt and a Taffeta Rosette

IN THE coming events of millinery that cast their shadows before, designers have allowed for opposite tastes—the practical and the picturesque—and the new fall models that claim your attention exemplify the fact that the milliners of the day remember all types of women.

One of the noticeable features is that the trimming has turned to the front. You must not forget this when buying or trimming a hat.

It should not surprise us, for with a successful position at the back of our spring and summer hats, all trimming could not wish for a continuation of this place—millinery affairs are too changing. So in our new fall models the trimming has come from the back to the front and catches decidedly the high light of favorable criticism.

In the fabric model of white silk moire there is a contrasting facing of black velvet on the under surface, from which white chiffon is shirred into the crown. A large white plume is placed at the front and is allowed to sweep across the shape toward the back in a low curve, not rising above the round crown. This black-and-white alliance is still in favor in Paris, give it the new touch, a rosette of pleated white taffeta is placed in the front. There is a decided vogue for white felt, especially for informal wear, and the richness of the felt should compensate for the simplicity of decoration.

The "Student's Cap"

White felt hats, by the way, have rivals in the bright reds and neutral grays and tans. The shapes are both large and small and simply trimmed.

There is the large white chiffon velvet hat relying on exquisite workmanship for its perfect brim and smooth surface. At the front is placed the trimming of white plumes, over which is a white osprey. The trimming sweeps around to the back and gives a soft, graceful line that is irresistible.

A velvet shape in black is simply turned up at the front and trimmed with a flower and two wired quills of ratine. This is especially becoming to a and is just as hopeful with regard to harmonizing with any costume as an all-black or all-white chapeau.

On the practical hat for business wear the trimming of wired loops is shown. The shape is small, and the ribbon is held in place at the front by a knot of ribbon. This model can be copied by you and will defy the wear and tear of the winter.

The wing-trimmed model shows a new high crown, pointed. The shape is of ottoman silk faced with velvet. Two white wings are placed under a flap at the front, making the pointed crown higher still.

White felt in a flexible, fine quality is turned up all around the crown, and then, to insure its position, and incidentally to youthful face. Its simplicity commands your attention.

Last is the "student's cap" of black velvet. It is a tam-o-shanter that suggests the studio. It has a satin brim, quite flexible, and a quill is the only trimming at the side. The large soft crown can be shaped to suit the face beneath.

Perhaps the most hopeful feature of the new millinery is its leniency. Changes there have been undoubtedly wrought, but hats are high, low, large, small, and are trimmed with fabric, plumage or flowers. They are easy of construction, which fact carries hope and economy into the home of the amateur milliner.

PASTOR RUSSELL'S SERMONS

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 25.—Both of Pastor Russell's discourses here were heard with close attention by large audiences. One was on the "Hereafter"; the other, which is here reported, was on the Divine Permission of Evil, from the text, "Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in Thy sight" (Luke x. 21).

PASTOR RUSSELL

The speaker held that the Almighty is dealing with mankind in no uncertain manner. It is a mistake, he said, to suppose, as many Christians and others seem to do, that God started out without a definite plan; that He was interfered with by Satan, and has since been unable to cope with His evil opposition. God foreknew the end from the beginning, and foreknew man's difficulty in understanding His Creator, as well as in knowing the means by which Divine Omnipotence is working all things according to the counsel of His own will, and for the highest welfare of His creatures, human and angelic.

Pastor Russell declared that only those who, through the Bible, get at least a glimpse of the glorious outworking of the Divine plan, understand God's reasons for permitting the reign of sin and sorrow, and the pain which has prevailed amongst mankind for six thousand years. The Almighty, he said, designs to teach lessons to angels and to men. Hence the Divine dealing with mankind has been very different from His dealing with angels.

Divine Justice, absolute, unalterable, has been shown in God's dealings with humanity, in His dealing with six thousand years of the death penalty, without cessation and accompanied by sorrow, pain and trouble. Justice is the very foundation of the Divine throne, or government, the Scriptures declare. God's Word can never fail. Hence the sentence of death upon Adam could not be cancelled. This, however, furnished the opportunity for the exhibition of the Divine qualities of Love and Mercy. When Justice could not release the sinner, Love provided a Redeemer, who at great cost gave himself a ransom-price for Adam and his race. Nor was this an infraction of Justice, for the Redeemer was not a creature, but a substitute for Adam. Rather, a great reward of glory, honor and immortality was attached to the invitation to Him to become man's Redeemer, and thus we read, "Who for the joy that was set before Him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of Divine Majesty" (Hebrews xii. 2).

Not only was Divine Love manifested in providing a Redeemer, but Divine Justice was exemplified in rewarding that Redeemer with the highest glory—"far above angels, principalities and powers." Additionally, God's love has been seeking out the loyal of mankind, the saintly few, to be the Bride of Christ—to be associated with the Redeemer in His glorious kingdom, which is shortly to bless and uplift the race of Adam from sin, from meanness, weakness, death, to life and perfection—destroying the unwilling and incorrigible in the Second Death.

When we think of the calamity of sin, sorrow, pain, the calamity of death, for six thousand years, the picture is truly awful; but we should remember that this has been distributed, here a little and there a little, amongst the twenty thousand millions of our race, one-half of whom, perhaps, have died in infancy. Few have lived to three score years and ten. I believe that even the most sorrowful lives known to the world have had compensatory seasons of pleasure, joy, happiness. I believe that only a few have died regretting that they had been born; and I am sure that with a proper understanding of Divine future provision they would not regret their birth, even with its attachments of sorrow.

Pastor Russell believes that human restitution, during Messiah's reign of a thousand years, will, in some respects, be to the willing and obedient greater appreciation of perfection and

Uses Only Cuticura Soap for Prize Baby

"I have always used Cuticura Soap and no other for my baby, and he has never had a sore of any kind. He does not even chafe as most babies do. I feel that it is all owing to Cuticura Soap for he is fine and healthy, and when five months old won a prize in a baby contest. It makes my heart ache to go into so many homes and see a sweet-faced baby with the whole top of its head a solid mass of scurf, caused by the use of poor soap. I always recommend Cuticura, and nine times out of ten the next time I see the mother she says 'Oh I am so glad you told me of Cuticura.'" (Signed) Mrs. G. A. Selby, Redondo Beach, Calif.

Although Cuticura Soap is sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a postal to "Cuticura," Dept. 2M, Boston, U. S. A., will secure a liberal sample, with 25¢ book on the care of skin, scalp and hair.

CONSTIPATION

righteousness than if they had not known imperfection and sin. Their perfection of life and health and strength, he believes, will be enhanced because of present experiences with sorrow, pain and death, through contrast. Thus mankind will really lose nothing by the Divine permission of evil but, on the contrary, will, by the increased knowledge gained through the reign of death and evil, learn lessons which will be of advantage to them to all eternity.

As the penalty of death reveals Divine Justice, and as the redemption from that penalty reveals Divine Love, so the recovery of mankind from death will reveal Divine Power, as nothing else could reveal it. Pastor Russell declared that the power which God promised to exercise in the resurrection of the Church to the spirit plane, and in the resurrection of the world to the fourth plane of being, will surpass any power ever exhibited in the past. To create the world, the angels and all things is truly a wonderful manifestation of Divine Power; but to re-create man, after he has gone back to dust, is something still more wonderful. In restoring man's soul or being, his intellect, his thoughts, Divine power will be exercised in a manner and to a degree which is beyond human conception. When we remember the billions of earth's death, and all their diversified experiences, which were impressed upon their memories, the power to accomplish the full restitution of that which was lost, is so infinite as to be incomprehensible, though we fully believe the promise.

The grand finale, Pastor Russell declared, will be the revelation to angels and to men of the much diversified wisdom of God. The wisdom which foresaw the end from the beginning, and which has been regulating the affairs of mankind to a fore-ordained end, and which will ultimately bring order out of confusion, surpasses anything that angels or men have ever dreamed of on the part of their Creator. The Scriptures say, "True and righteous are Thy ways, Lord God Almighty; for all the nations shall come and worship before Thee when Thy righteous dealings shall be made manifest" (Revelation xv. 4).

GREAT SEAL OF ENGLAND. Symbol of Authority Carried in Many Adventures.

No other emblem of governmental authority, perhaps, ever had such a series of queer adventures as those pertaining to the Great Seal of England.

In the first place, says Harper's Weekly, when Richard I. set out for the Holy Land he took the seal with him. His vice-chancellor, Malchion, is said to have worn it suspended by a chain around his neck. Off Cyprus the vice-chancellor fell overboard and was drowned, and the great seal was lost.

The first seal of Charles I. was thrown into the River Severn, in order that it might not fall into the hands of Cromwell's soldiers. When James II. fled from England he carried the great seal with him. He threw it into the Thames, evidently thinking that without it, William III. could not carry on the government. A fisherman's net caught it, and it was restored to the authorities, and was used by William until a new seal was made.

In 1874 thieves broke into the house of Lord Chancellor Thurlow and stole the great seal. It was never recovered.

The county seat of Lord Chancellor Eldon took fire at night. At the first alarm the chancellor hurried from his sleeping chamber with the great seal, and buried it in his garden. In the morning he tried in vain to locate the place where he had buried the seal. By the advice of Lady Eldon, every servant in the household was provided either with a spike, a trowel or a poker, and ordered to "probe" the garden. At last the chancellor was relieved by the cry of "found." The great seal of England is often called "the seals," because it is made in two parts, the obverse and the reverse. In other days when a new seal was used the old one was broken into pieces, the destruction forming quite a ceremonious act. The pieces were a requisite of the chancellor. In modern days the ceremony of breaking the old seal has consisted in the sovereign's giving it a gentle blow with a hammer. It is then supposed to be broken, and has lost all its virtue as a symbol of the royal authority. The lord chancellor preserves the "broken" seal, and hands it down as an heirloom to his descendants.

AUTO FALLS OVER BLUFF. Car Smashed to Pieces—Two Occupants Narrowly Escape Death.

Martinez, Cal., Sept. 29.—E. J. Robertson, a merchant of Portland, Ore., and his wife, who left the northern city a few days ago to motor to Oakland, narrowly escaped death on Thursday when their machine went over a 200-foot bluff near here and was smashed to pieces at the bottom.

Robertson and his wife were thrown out when the car left the road, landing in thick brush which saved them from serious injury. The machine, Robertson said, turned over five times before it hit the bottom of the hill. The accident occurred at a sharp turn.

HARD POSITION OF HEBREWS IN RUSSIA

Anti-Semitic Attitude of Russian Government Works Cruelly for Jews

While Great Britain has been engaged in a long constitutional struggle the British public has had no opportunity of following the Russian internal situation in so far as it affects the Russian Jews, says the London Standard. For some time past the Russian government has been endeavoring to pass into law a series of enactments—the prime object of which is the destruction of the last shred of liberty—if such it may be called—of Russian Jewry. Despite the repeated Jewish deputations and other communal bodies, he and his colleagues appear more than ever to have persisted in their anti-Semitic schemes for the further degradation, not to say spoliation, of a loyal and hard-working section of the Russian people. The most peculiar part of it is that the scheme is regarded in official quarters as being only a beginning of the great anti-Jewish campaign to be initiated by the government.

The monk Iladore, who is recognized as being under the Czar's protection, has undertaken a tour in the Volga district, everywhere preaching hostility to the Jews. He is a man who wields considerable influence in official quarters, and owing to the fact that he is regarded with respect by the circles of the Russian peasants, who are in the main a mass of superstitious and ignorant people, follow him blindly when he calls upon them to take revenge on the Jews, who, he says, desire "to depose the Czar and crown an Israelite in his place." In this way, Iladore is creating an anti-Jewish feeling among the ignorant mass of peasants in the Volga district which sooner or later must break out with terrible results. As a matter of fact, the monk's followers have already attacked Jews in the streets of Nijni-Novgorod.

Of course, expulsions of Jews take place as usual, and as customary a feature of Russian life have they become that they are not regarded with any special disgust among the more sensible section of the Russian populace, as, for instance, the intellectual class. Jews have been received from the streets in Kiev, that as many as two hundred and thirty Jews were exiled from there, while large numbers suffered a similar fate in Polshaja, Rosovka, Ekaterina, Veikonnasole, Elenovka, and Emilschima. It is of interest to note that in the village of Nijni-Novgorod, in the same time thousands of Jews take refuge in the towns, in order to enable Jews to reside there. From Bokhara comes news that an order was issued prohibiting the further settlement in the Caspian district of Bokhara and Afghan Jews, while at the same time thousands of Jews who resided there were ordered to leave.

At Nikolaitoff the most distressing circumstances attended the expulsion of the town from the pale. Hearing that the government refused to grant them trading certificates, the credit in the village refused to advance money to Suchedneff approached the acting governor-general of Warsaw with regard to the decision to exile from that place some two hundred families, pleading that the village was situated on peasants' property.

General Tounachoff, the famous anti-Semitic governor of Odessa, who practically disgraced himself on the battlefields of Manchuria in the war against Japan, is, however, showing himself valiant in his attacks on Jews whenever possible. Now Jewish advocates are receiving his special attention, and his latest success is that the ministry of justice has sided with him in ordering the Odessa Advocates' Association to submit to the Prefect a list of the names of Jewish advocates with a view to taking proceedings against those of them who are known by Russian first names. It was at the same time he mentioned that the association first refused to divulge this. Proud of his success he has even gone further, by dispatching a circular to all Rabbis in the southern provinces demanding of them lists of the correct Jewish names of residents in Odessa registered in other towns. As already mentioned in the Standard, the ministry of justice has drafted a bill prohibiting Jewish lawyers from conducting civil cases for Christian clients and from offering themselves for election as members of the Advocates' councils. The main object of this bill is, of course, to lessen the large number of Jewish lawyers there are in the country.

But not only is the Russian government tyrannizing over the Jewish civil inhabitants of the empire; it is even tyrannizing over the Jewish military class—men who have fought valiantly on the Russian battlefields, performed heroic deeds, saved the lives of Russian officers, and upheld the honor and dignity of the Russian empire. Every one knows in Russia what a large number of these men have not been permitted to return to their homes, and have been exiled soon after their return from the war for the simple reason that they are Jews. Many of them have even been sent out of hospitals uncured for the simple reason that the hospitals were in Moscow or Kiev.

Siberia supplies the latest story in this respect. The man in question is M. Joseph Werkbreit, who had participated in many battles in the Russo-Japanese campaign with special distinction, won medals, and received receipts, and was even raised to the rank of a non-commissioned officer; yet on his return to his native land he was exiled from the Baikil district. For some time past there has been a movement on foot in official and court circles to exclude Jews altogether from the Russian army. In order to avert this, a large number of Jewish ex-soldiers of the Russian army—all of them warriors of the latest campaign in Manchuria—have decided to endeavor to obtain the Czar's consent to receive a deputation of Jewish soldiers, pleading for the abolition of any bill which has this as its object. It is not yet known what the result of this deputation to the Czar will be, but it will be remembered that last year a similar deputation carried out such a mission with unexpected success.

That deputation laid before the Little Father the whole story of their sufferings and hardships, pointed out that expulsions and exiles were illegal owing to the famous October manifesto, which permitted them to reside outside the pale, and finally presented the Czar with a scroll of the law. It is difficult to say what amount of credence can be placed on the story, but it has been stated on good authority that the Czar, with tears in his eyes, granted the petitioners their request, and even showed them his sympathy by giving them 50 rubles each and second-class tickets to Kiev.

About one hundred and fifty boys from the various schools took advantage of the invitation of the Y. M. C. A. management to come and have a free swim in the tank this morning. At nine o'clock a good number were on hand. Before entering the water each boy was made to take a soap bath, and a cold shower bath. The polo match to-night is between Mr. Koenig's team, Vancouver, and a team from the local Y. M. C. A. The vice-race will also be contested by Mr. Koenig's boys.

An unusual number of inquiries have come into the office of the Vancouver Island Development League from Africa. A communication was received here yesterday from a prominent solicitor of Manchester, England, who stated that he wished to come out here. He said there were many young men in Manchester who would be glad to come to this country. If they could only get in touch with some one who would give them definite hopes of employment, the writer suggested that it would be a good plan for the government to establish in Manchester, an inquiry or information bureau similar to the agent-general's office in London.

The man who was brought in from Saanich yesterday, suffering from a gun shot wound, died early this morning at St. Joseph's hospital. The man was killed by his own gun, which in some manner was discharged. The shot entered the left side above the groin and passed through the intestines. An employee of the gas company, who was rendered unconscious for several hours yesterday, owing to a leak in a main where he was at work, had recovered enough this morning to leave the hospital. A Hawa, a man in the employ of the Pacific Coast Construction Company who was the victim of an accident yesterday, is reported to be doing well to-day at St. Joseph's hospital. Favorable reports of the condition of little four-year-old Tommy Kirby, who is being treated at the Jubilee hospital, have been received to-day. The boy was run over by a wagon last evening on Oak Bay avenue.

There were 168 boiler explosions, according to figures, which killed and sixty-two injured, in the United Kingdom last year.

Motion to Employ a Rank Outsider is Voted Down by Eight to Two

The boat was on the other leg with a vengeance last night when City Engineer Smith, at a meeting of the council, confronted Mayor Morley, calmly repudiated his thinly-veiled charges of incompetence and, with a quiet dignity indicative of a powerful reserve, accused his accuser of intruding with the aldermen and the other city officials to assist him from office.

PANDORA AVENUE

Already drains the heaviest settled section of the city, i.e., Spring Ridge, and to this will be added at an early date Oak Bay. The territory tributary to this street will be enormous, and values will rise as high as those on Douglas street. Note the difference in prices of property on these two streets to-day. Take into consideration the vast improvement to be executed on Pandora and imagine the profits to be made by buying now.
